No. 74. Read the following letter from R. W. BARLOW, Esq., President of the Municipal Commission, Conjeveram, to the Hon. D. F. CARMICHAEL, Acting Chief Secretary to Government, Fort St. George, dated Saidapet, 31st August 1874, No. 66 :—

I have the honor to forward, for the sanction of Government, the following bye-law proposed by the Municipal Commissioners of Conjeveram at a meeting held on the 13th ultimo (vide extract enclosed) prohibiting the use of horns, called in Tamil "Tharai," blown on the occasion of funeral processions :—

"Whoever blows, or causes to be blown, the funeral horn commonly called 'Tharai' within the Municipality, shall be liable to a fine of Rupees 10."

2. Though only four members were present when the bye-law was proposed I am credibly informed that the native feeling is generally against the use of this horn, and its sound is doubtless alarming to people in a nervous frame of mind.

3. I learn that its use was stopped in Madras long ago and that the course did not lead to discontent.
