SIR,

Enclosure.
One.

I have the honor to say that on inspecting Vellore Town Station in North Arcot, I found that much inconvenience was experienced owing to there being no Station House allowance attached to the Station. The result of the absence of any Station House allowance was that no good Head Constable would stay in the Station.

2. On examining the matter, I find that this allowance was omitted originally in the Scheme of 1888-89, when, although a new Station had been opened in the District at Tiruchanur, no additional allowance was asked for. That Station was

* vide G.O. No. 584 in the Judicial, dated 27 March 1889 - was newly formed in 1889 - Colonel Guthrie then, for some reason, would not ask Government for the additional allowance required but transferred the allowance of Vellore Town Station to the new Station.

3. It is true that the Vellore Town has only one Station under one Inspector and so can perhaps spare an allowance better than Tiruchanur, a Taluk Station under an Inspector who has other Stations to look after as well. But there are other Town Stations in the Presidency in charge of Inspectors, who have only one Station and they have Station House allowances attached to them, and quite properly so, because with the large number of Police in a large Town (Vellore has 45 men) the Inspector wants a well paid Head Constable of good qualifications to assist him. This he cannot get unless the usual allowance be granted to the man. The result is a constant change in Head Constables which is destructive to good Station work. In Vellore it is specially bad as the Inspector Inspector apparently was chosen more on account of his knowledge of drill and discipline than for his capability in dealing with crime. He is an European who has his men in excellent order, but his detection is bad, and he needs a good Native Head Constable to help him.

4. I request that Government will sanction the additional first class Station House officer's allowance required in the District.

A proposition Statement in duplicate is enclosed.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

your most obedient servant,

M. M. M.

Inspector General of Police
