Resolution.— In Rule II of the rules read above, it is laid down that the age of a candidate, who is nominated for the examination for appointment to the Enrolled List of the Financial Department, must not exceed 25 years at the time of examination, but the rule does not prescribe what evidence should be held to establish the fact of the candidate's age. ENCLOSURES.

RESOLUTION of the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department, dated the 31st December 1890, No. 6023.

Read again the Resolution in this department, No. 2273, dated the 18th April 1876.

Resolution.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to prescribe the following revised rules for the examination of candidates for admission to the service of the Government of India in the Financial Department, and of officers in the Financial Department:—

ENTRANCE EXAMINATION.

I.—Candidates for admission to the department are selected from time to time according to the requirements of the service, three being named for each expected vacancy.

II.—The age of a candidate, when examined, must not exceed twenty-five years, and he must produce a certificate in the annexed form by a Commissioned Medical Officer or by a Medical Officer in charge of a Civil Station.

Certificate.

I do hereby certify that I have examined A.B., a candidate for employment in the Financial Department of the Government of India, and that I cannot discover that he has any disease, constitutional affection or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the public service in any part of India.

III.—The nominated candidates are examined in the subjects prescribed in the first schedule attached to this Resolution, and (subject to the condition hereinafter stated) the candidate who obtains the highest marks is appointed to the first vacancy in the seventh class of the department; the candidate who obtains the second place to the second vacancy, if there be more than one vacancy to be filled, and so on. No candidate is admitted to the department who obtains less than 650 marks in all, or less than half marks in Mathematics.

IV.—A candidate is not allowed to compete at the entrance examination more than twice.

V.—The examination is by written questions and answers, the questions being prepared in such manner as the Governor-General in Council from time to time directs.

VI.—A candidate may be examined at any place where satisfactory arrangements can be made for the conduct of the examination.

DEPARTMENTAL EXAMINATIONS.

VII.—A half-yearly examination is held for officers in the sixth and seventh classes of the department (on the Mondays next after the 10th May and 10th November and following days) in the subjects detailed in Schedules II and III annexed to this Resolution. These examinations are styled the Lower and Higher Departmental examinations, respectively.

VIII.—An officer who shows at any departmental examination a competent knowledge of all the prescribed subjects, and obtains half marks in the aggregate, is held to have passed the examination. An officer is, however, permitted to pass each of the departmental examinations in two instalments, if he notifies his intention beforehand and specifies the subjects in which he is prepared for examination. In such case a higher standard of knowledge is required.

IX.—As a rule, a candidate failing in one of the subjects specified is re-examined in the whole; but, in case of marked excellence in a subject, the examiners may exempt the candidate from re-examination in such subject even although he may have failed in others.

X.—An officer who does not pass the lower departmental examination at the fourth or some earlier examination, and the higher departmental examination at the eighth or some earlier examination, after he joins the department, ceases, without further orders, to belong to the department from the date on which the result of the examination is declared: provided that if before the said fourth or eighth examination (as the case may be), the officer have obtained leave of absence on medical certificate for more than three months, he is allowed to remain in the service for six months longer in order to present himself at one more examination.

XI.—Upon passing each departmental examination, the pay of an officer of the seventh class is increased from the date on which the examination ends by Rs. 50 a month. The pay of an officer of the seventh class who has passed the lower examination is Rs. 250, and that of an officer of the seventh class who has passed the higher departmental examination Rs. 300 a month.

XII.—An officer is not promoted substantively to the sixth class until he has passed the lower departmental examination, and to the fifth class until he has passed the higher departmental examination.

XIII.—(a) An officer who has passed the departmental examination by either standard will be appointed to officiate in any vacancy that may occur in either the fifth or the sixth class in preference to any of his seniors who has not passed by the same standard.

(b) An officer who fails to pass by the lower standard at the third examination after his appointment to the service will, for any acting appointment to the sixth class, rank below all junior officers who pass by the lower standard before him.

(c) An officer who fails to pass by the higher standard at the fifth examination after his appointment to the service will, for any acting appointment to the fifth class, rank below all junior officers who pass by the higher standard before him.

XIV.—The departmental examinations are conducted at the local Account Offices in the presence of the Accountant-General and under the direction of the Comptroller and Auditor General and Deputy Comptroller-General, who decide upon the marks to be awarded to each examinee. If these officers differ as to the marks to be assigned to any answer, the Secretary to the Government of India in the Financial Department decides finally between them.

GENERAL RULES.

XV.—The rules for conducting all the examinations are as follows:—

- (1) The examination papers are sent in a sealed registered packet, not to be opened till the examination begins, each cover containing a separate sealed envelope for each paper set; these envelopes must not be opened until the papers are required for distribution. An index number is to be entered by the candidate on each of his papers, instead of his name, which is nowhere to appear on the proceedings.
- (2) The several papers should be given out singly, and the hour at which each paper is given out and received back is to be mentioned in the presiding officer's report. The exercises are to be worked out by the candidate in presence of the presiding officer.

- (3) The questions need not be written out by the candidate, but only the answer and solutions in full, with the number of the question prefixed. The answers may be first worked out on waste paper. The neatness of the candidate's paper is taken into consideration by the examiners in assigning values to his work. The paper should be of foolscap size, with the candidate's index number and the date, and title of each subject at the head of the paper. The solutions as first written out fair are to be transmitted without alteration or correction, immediately after the close of the examination, by sealed packet, to be registered if sent through the post, and addressed to—

(a) in the case of the entrance examination, the Registrar, Calcutta University, or other officer appointed to set the papers and award the marks;

(b) in the case of departmental examinations, the Comptroller and Auditor General.

- (4) The time occupied by the candidate in answering each set of questions, i.e., the interval between receiving the examination paper and returning his papers to the presiding officer, is to be stated on the back of his paper of solutions. The time allowed for a paper is in no case to be exceeded.

- (5) The presiding officer must certify that the above rules have been strictly followed by signing the certificate below, and explain any accidental or unavoidable deviations:—

Certified that the examination of the candidates whose index numbers are the Financial Department, dated the

2. In order to avoid misapprehension, the Governor-General in Council declares that nothing in this Resolution is to be understood as limiting the powers which the Government has throughout expressly retained of appointing gentlemen not in the department to any office in any class of the department whenever the interests of the public service require it. The Government will ordinarily appoint an officer belonging to the department to a vacancy, if there is such an officer of sufficient standing and experience and qualified for the office in every respect. But it must be emphatically understood that the officers in the classified list have no monopoly of the departmental service other than that which the opportunities of their position delicately improved may secure to them.

3. The first consideration when a vacancy occurs in the department will always be the efficiency of the public service; and no claim on the part of the officers of the department will ever be allowed to stand in the way of the enlistment in the higher offices of the department of officers of the Covenanted Civil Service, or even of gentlemen not in the service of Government at all, whenever it is thought that the public interests require, or will be promoted by, such enlistment.

4. Moreover, His Excellency in Council deems it proper to declare that the Government of India holds itself free, not only to appoint to any office in the Finance Department any one not an enrolled officer of the department whose appointment is considered necessary in the public interest, but also to pay to the person selected for such appointment such remuneration as may be required in order to secure his services.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be communicated to the Comptroller and Auditor General and to the several Accountants-General and Comptrollers for information; also that copies be forwarded to Messrs. Alexander Newmarch, V. C. Scott-O'Connor, W. J. Williamson, and Chuni Lal, with the intimation that, as regards departmental examinations, the new rules will be brought into force from the examination to be held in May 1891.
