Bubonic Plague—Charge Allowance to Hospital Assistants.

Accepting, with remarks, the recommendation of the Surgeon-General that the provisions of G.O., No. 1008 of 1891, regarding the grant of certain charge allowance to hospital assistants employed on cholera or festival duty, be made applicable to those officers when deputed to inspect vessels or railway carriages on account of the plague.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper :—

From Surgeon-Major-General C. SIBTHORPE, F.R.C.P.I., Surgeon-General with the Government of Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Camp, Tanjore, 15th January 1897, No. Tour-3—34.

I have the honour to recommend that the provision of G.O., No. 1008, Public, dated the 30th November 1891, may be made applicable to hospital assistants who may be deputed to inspect vessels or railway carriages in connection with plague observation duty.

2. In Cochin two hospital assistants have been detailed to inspect all vessels that arrive at the port from Bombay and other northern ports, and the District Medical and Sanitary Officer, Anantapur, reports that a hospital assistant was temporarily deputed to Guntakal pending the arrival of a subordinate of a higher grade nominated by this office; but the Accountant-General declines to admit his claim for the allowance referred to above without the special sanction of Government.

3. As the grounds on which the allowance was sanctioned for hospital assistants on cholera and festival duty also exist in connection with the plague and observation duty, I trust that Government will be pleased to sanction my recommendation in paragraph 1.

ORDER—No. 109, Public, dated 5th February 1897.

The Surgeon-General's recommendation is accepted, subject to the condition that the hospital assistant is, under the orders of Government, deputed to a distance from the scene of his ordinary work to duty solely connected with the plague.

2. G.O., No. 1008, Public, dated 30th November 1891, will be amended accordingly.
