I think the charge for the carriage of horses is not a precedent. The case must be made in India. I have been told his work in India. The work of a camp equipment is from India. 9/10/97

The question is whether the "public interests" would have suffered had Mr. Agar sent his horse to road. The Commr. of Police is not a touring officer & most Commrs have probably done their work without much use of a horse in a carriage. It is moreover the Forwarded to Government.

There is no objection to the sanction being accorded to the payment of the charge incurred by Mr. Agar on account of Carriage of his horses - provided the Government is satisfied that the public interest would have suffered had the horses been sold and replaced.

As regards the charge claimed on account of Carriage of Camp equipments, I would observe that Mr. Agar in his present appointment is probably not in need of Camp equipment. He should therefore have sent it to Madras by road or if the distance be too great, he should have sold it.
