Exchange Compensation Allowance

2 THE HON'BLE MR. GROSE, C.I.E.

FOR ORDERS.

H

Paragraph 1 of G.O.No. 491 Finl, d/24th June 1897, called for proposals from the Secretariat Depts. for completing the lists of offices, services or depts. for inclusion in the list of those to ~~which~~ ^{which} exchange compensation allowance is admissible. The P.W.D. at first transferred several papers to the Finl. Dept: regarding P.W. appointments. These were re-transferred to the P.W.D. (memorandum No. 2610 Finl., d/30th Novr. 1897) with the request that the general question might be submitted for orders in that Dept: and the decision arrived at, after circulation, furnished to the Finl. Dept: as this course was followed in all other depts. and was more convenient.

J
The P.W.D. appears to have taken the necessary action and ^{to have} addressed the Govt. of India direct. ^{vide} C.No. 159. There appears to be no objection to this course as the Govt. of India itself must settle the question of the P.W.D. throughout India.

The

The Public Works proposals include the case of Mr. R. Parsons, Chief Asst. in the Public Works and Marine Depts. and this case is forwarded to Financial. The Public Works Dept. considers that the appointment of Chief Asst. in the Marine Dept. is one of those which should in the public interests be held by a European as the incumbent is entrusted with duties of a highly confidential nature and is the repository of secret instructions to be used as a guide in the event of an outbreak of hostilities. With reference to this suggestion, it is to be noted that it has been ruled in the Public Dept. that the Chief Assistantship of the Chief Secretariat is not an office in which European qualifications are indispensable and there seems to be no reason why the similar appointment in the Public Works should be differently treated.

As regards the individual case of Mr. Parsons, the Public Works Dept. points out that he is not a Statutory Native. If the office which Mr. Parsons holds is not one in which European qualifications are ^{considered} indispensable, there appears to be no necessity to consider the question further. It may, however, be mentioned that Mr. Parsons' claim to the allowance under the old rules was disallowed - [vide correspondence ending with G.O. No. 219 Finl., d/16th March 1894] on the ground that he is domiciled in

The position of the Chief Asst P.W.D. is pretty much the same as that of Chief Asst. in the Chief Secy's office. In the latter case it was held that European qualifns. were unnecessary as the confidential work might be given to another. The same argument applies in the former case. Otherwise I should have been disposed to say Europ. qualifns were necessary in both cases.

Mr. Parsons is not entitled to the allowance.

21/2/98 As to the 1st Asst in the
A.A. Chief Secretariat, I should be 12.3.98 inclined to reconsider the decision that he need not necessarily be a Euro., but for the fact that we have at this moment an extremely efficient & trustworthy incumbent of the office, who if I am not mistaken, is not a Euro., at least technically.

India. This would not of course make him a Statutory ^{Native} because he was not born in India. Even if the office at present held by him is considered to be one in which European qualifications are indispensable, it has to be shown that Mr. Parsons was appointed as a European.
