GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—again the following paper:—

Letter—Mis. No. 898, Financial, dated 4th November 1897, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

Under article 1168 (i) of the Civil Service Regulations, the Head Commissioner of the Department of Issue of Paper Currency is empowered to grant in special cases to any officer of the fourth class deputed to accompany remittances which are in amount below 20 lakhs an allowance not exceeding As. 4 a day or 50 per cent. of his salary. I am directed to suggest, for the consideration of the Government of India, that this concession might be extended to police constables when escorting treasure or travelling on duty beyond the limits of this Presidency. The daily allowance admissible to servants of this class on Rs. 8 and Rs. 7 is one anna per diem, but this is inadequate when they have to perform duties of the above nature, and applications are constantly received by this Government for special treatment under article 278-A of the Civil Account Code. His Excellency the Governor in Council considers the concession reasonable, as these subordinates are necessarily put to extra and unforeseen expenditure.

2. I am further to suggest that, in view of saving correspondence, the power to grant this allowance might be vested in the Inspector-General of Police.

(Signed) A. T. ARUNDEL,
Chief Secretary.

READ—also the following paper:—

From H. LUSON, Esq., Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department (Police), to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras, dated Calcutta, 9th March 1898, No. 130.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, No. 898, dated the 4th November 1897, relative to the proposal to increase the daily allowance of police constables escorting treasure or travelling on duty beyond the limits of the Madras Presidency.

2. It is represented that the daily allowance of one anna admissible to servants of this class on Rs. 8 and Rs. 7 is inadequate when they have to perform duties of the above nature. Under article 1168 (i) of the Civil Service Regulations, the Head Commissioner of Paper Currency is empowered to grant in special cases to any officer of the fourth class deputed to accompany remittances below 20 lakhs an allowance not exceeding four annas a day or 50 per cent. of his salary; and it is recommended that this concession may be extended to police constables in the Madras Presidency, the power to grant it being vested in the Inspector-General of Police.

3. In reply, I am to say that, if the scope of the rule in article 1168 (i) of the Civil Service Regulations were enlarged as proposed in your letter, constables on Rs. 7 and Rs. 8 a month could never receive a daily allowance of four annas. They would get about two annas a day as 50 per cent. of their salary. I am, however, to invite attention to clause (c) of the same article, under which a daily allowance of two annas is, under the orders of Local Governments, admissible to any inferior servants accompanying an inspecting or controlling officer whose circuit of inspection or control extends beyond the limits of a single district. The Governor-General in Council is of opinion that the extension of this clause to police subordinates escorting treasure or travelling on duty beyond their Presidency would meet the requirements of the case. His Excellency in Council accordingly authorizes the Local Government to delegate to the Inspector-General of Police the power of granting a daily allowance of two annas in the cases referred to. The necessary amendments will be made in the Civil Service Regulations in order to give effect to this decision.

ORDER—No. 330, Financial, dated 30th March 1898.

His Excellency the Governor in Council delegates to the Inspector-General of Police the power of granting a daily allowance of two annas to police constables escorting treasure or travelling on duty beyond the Presidency.
