Privilege Leave to a Subordinate drawing less than Rs. 100.

Stating that it is not necessary that an interval of eleven months should elapse between two periods of privilege leave to grant one month's — under note to article 162 (1) of the Civil Service Regulations, provided that not more than one month's privilege leave in the aggregate is allowed in any one calendar year, whether by instalments or otherwise.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper:—

Office-note from E. A. DENNYS, Esq., Examiner, Public Works Accounts, Madras and Coorg, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, dated 11th July 1898, No. 846-A./E.

[Meaning of the term "Annual holiday" as used in note to article 162 (1), Civil Service Regulations.]

I enclose copies * of correspondence with the Accountant-General, Madras, on the above subject, and beg to suggest that Government be moved to issue a Government order in terms of the Comptroller-General's No. 2003, dated 5th January 1898. I would recommend that the official year be adopted in all offices of the Public Works Department, and, in anticipation of the approval of Government, I propose to adopt that year in my office.

ENCLOSURES.

From the Examiner, Public Works Accounts, Madras and Coorg, to the Accountant-General, Madras, dated 22nd June 1898, No. 761-A./E.

I have the honour to request that you will be good enough to favour me, with an expression of your opinion, as to the meaning of the term "annual holiday" as used in note to article 162, Civil Service Regulations.

2. If, for instance, an officer drawing less than Rs. 100 per mensem (having three months' privilege leave at his credit) takes a month's privilege leave, say, on 1st July 1898, he can do so, although extra expense is caused to the State; but it is doubtful if he can be granted privilege leave again at the expense of the State for one month on, say, 15th February 1899, i.e., before the expiry of twelve calendar months, from 1st August 1898.

3. I should be obliged if you will inform me what the practice in your office is in applying the rule in such cases.

From the Accountant-General, Madras, to the Examiner, Public Works Accounts, dated 4th July 1898, No. I.A.B.-249.

With reference to your letter No. 761-A./E., dated the 22nd of June 1898, I have the honour to state that the meaning of the term annual holiday, as used in note to article 162, Civil Service Regulations, is given in Comptroller-General's No. 2004, dated the 5th January 1898 (copy enclosed). The practice in this office is in accordance with the above meaning.

From the Comptroller-General, to the Comptroller, Assam, dated 5th January 1898, No. 2003.

With reference to your letter No. 56-S.A.—14607, of the 7th ultimo, regarding the meaning of the word "annual holiday" in note to article 162 (1), Civil Service Regulations, I have the honour to say that it is not necessary to require an interval of eleven months to occur between two periods of privilege leave to admit of a clerk obtaining the benefit of the rule quoted.

The point to be kept in view is that, in one year, it is not of much consequence whether the official or the calendar year is adopted, provided the same kind of year is always adopted in the same office, not more than one month's privilege leave is taken, whether by instalments or otherwise.

No. 2004.

Copy, with that of the letter to which it is a reply, forwarded to the Accountant-General, Madras, for information.

Endt., No. 685 D.

Transferred to the Financial Department. Any Government order on the subject should be applicable to all departments of the Government service. It would be better to take the "calendar" rather than the "official" year.

(Signed) W.B. DEWINTON,
19th July 1898. Secretary to Government, P.W.D.

ORDER—No. 659, Financial, dated 3rd August 1898.

Under the note to article 162 (1) of the Civil Service Regulations, an officer drawing less than Rs. 100 may be granted one month's privilege leave as an annual holiday, irrespective of the expense to Government.

2. Departments and heads of departments will be informed that it is not necessary that an interval of eleven months should elapse between two periods of privilege leave to admit of a subordinate obtaining the benefit of the foregoing ruling, provided that not more than one month's privilege leave in the aggregate is allowed in any one calendar year, whether by instalments or otherwise.

~~NOTE FOR THE CHIEF SECRETARY.~~

For Orders

The note to article 162 (i) of the C.S.R. states that an officer drawing less than Rs.100 may be granted one month's privilege leave as an annual holiday irrespective of the expense to Govt.

provided the same kind of year is always adopted in the same office.

3. The Examiner suggests that a general order on the subject should be issued and he recommends that the official year be adopted in all offices of the P.W.D. The Public Works Dept. has transferred the papers to Financial as any order on the subject should be applicable to all departments of the Govt. service. That dept. is of opinion that it would be better to take the "calendar" rather than the "official" year.

3. It will be seen from G.O. No. 74 Finl., d/3rd February 1896, that the calendar year has been adopted for the calculation of the five days limit in the case of casual leave and it is submitted that the same ^{year} ~~calendar~~ may be adopted in the present case as suggested by the P.W.D. Although accounts and reports go by the official year, these matters are generally guided by the calendar year in most offices, it is understood.

Cmsd 22.7.98 Perhaps better to take the calendar year.
