No. 616

A touring officer who takes part of his office establishment with him and to whom rubber stamps are useful must require a duplicate for camp use. Subd. that no objection need be raised to the practice, but that no general orders are required. Any general order might lead numerous officers who do not procure duplicates at present to do so in future. The Supdt. may, it is submitted, be authorized to admit the present claim and all future & similar claims after satisfying himself that the duplicates are necessary.

SIR,

The Inspector of schools, Central Circle, recently forwarded through the Director of Public Instruction for repair two Office rubber date stamps, which bear the same impression. In reply to a reference made to the Director as to the necessity for a duplicate stamp he states that the Inspector requires both, one for use at head quarters and the other for use in Camp. The Director at the sametime forwards a similar indent for the Inspectress of Girls' schools Southern and Western Circles. The necessity for the use of a rubber stamp at head quarters when the officer is on tour has not been explained. If, however, a duplicate stamp is allowed in these cases a similar concession could hardly be denied to all touring officers, and the expenditure involved would be very considerable. I therefore submit the general question for the orders of Government.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J.N. Atkinson

Superintendent of Stationery.
