* Rules Nos.

I don't see how this can be avoided in this case. The provision is for 1 month's allowance for one month only which apparently will be paid in India & there are "Savings" to me! This from us then can be avoided in this case.

61. A. under which separate provision for leave allowances payable to the Epigraphist in India is unnecessary; 58. under which a statement showing in the case of each progressive salary the actual salary earned on 1st April 1900, should be attached;

Why? Fuel allowance in 81 under which the details of the lump sum provision under "Office expenses" should be given. usually paid in advance in 6 and "Miscellaneous" should be given. up to date of arrival before 6 and "Miscellaneous" should be given.
