Letter—Mis. No. 929, Financial, dated Ootacamund, 25th August 1899, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department.

I am directed to reply to Mr. Meyer's letter No. 3312-E., dated the 20th July 1899, in which inquiries are made as to the nature of the duties of the Storekeeper in the office of the Inspector-General of Police in this Presidency and as to the reasons for the opinion that the appointment should always be held by a European not being a statutory native of India.

2. I am to state that the Storekeeper has charge of all clothing, arms and accoutrements which are purchased and kept in stock in the office of the Inspector-General and issued to District Superintendents periodically on indents submitted by them and passed by the Assistant Inspector-General. The approximate value of stores in stock at a time may be estimated at two lakhs of rupees. These duties, and especially the charge of the Police arms, render the position one of considerable trust and responsibility. The Storekeeper undertakes, in addition, the examination of arms and their component and of clothing, belts and other accoutrements as to their quality, texture and make. This work can only be satisfactorily performed by a skilled European who has a thorough knowledge of the requirements of the force. The appointment has been held by a European since the organization of the Police Department. The present incumbent was formerly a Reserve and Store Inspector, and it is only from officers of the Reserve

Chief Secretary.
