Teacher, Hindu Secondary School,

To

The Chief Secretary to

The Government of Madras,

Ootacamund.

Sir,

I have the honour to inform you that I have published a new book "Pre-Mussalman India: A History of the Motherland prior to the Sultanate of Delhi". The book contains 160 pages crown 16mo. and is priced Rs. 1-8-0 per copy. It embodies my researches in the field of ancient Indian History during the past seven years and original sources are largely quoted from. It is written from the Hindu standpoint of view, and I make bold to say that I have aimed at a standard of accuracy much higher than that attained by historians in the past and that this publication, the first of its kind, does supply a real desideratum.

2. I propose to leave 200 copies of this book with the Government of Madras, one-half the sale-proceeds of which I desire to contribute as a free gift to the Hospital ship Madras and the other half I desire to invest in the Government of India War Loan 1920 Bonds 5½ per cent.

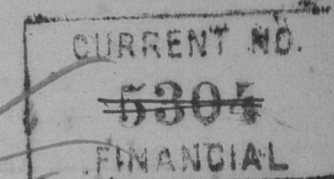

3. I have the honour to request you to be good enough to place my desire before His Excellency the Governor of Madras and to communicate to me if His Excellency's Government are willing to accept my offer, however humble it may be.

I have the honour to be,

sir,

Your Most Obedient Servant,

M. S. Nateson.

I think the book is too controversial for schools and I see no particular necessity for Government patronising it. If it excites a general appeal it will make its own way. If not it waters little of it remains unread.
