S.

As regards thumb-impressions, we shall be getting more & more applications in all probability from illiterate persons, whose thumb-impressions must be taken in lieu of signatures. I do not see much use in thumb-impressions on passports; the photograph ought to suffice to identify bearer; moreover it wd be a long business for purposes of verification to obtain a duplicate impression & to compare it with the original wd require an expert. I therefore submit that India may be addressed to cancel the latter half of regulation

I think not necy
18/6/17

9. In the meantime it seems necessary to insist on the impressions being properly produced as well as attested.

Please see the impression of Kammarayi Ammal (No 914). It seems to be of no value for purposes of identification; & it would even appear that one print has been superimposed on another.

For orders whether DMs and the Commissioner may be circularised, their attention being called to regulation 9 and to the necessity of obtaining proper thumb-impressions.

A general circular is scarcely necessary. Note as you observe. I have added a para to the draft.
