ADRAS, 26 Dec. 1917.

[illegible] of the Jarīdae Rozgār", about which I spoke last evening has called again to ask for a letter to you to recommend his Paper and, if possible, obtain for [illegible] wider circulation.

I have seen many issues of the Jarida and am sure that it is very loyal to Government. It constantly writes against Home Rule agitations.

Yours sincerely,

To

The Hon'ble Sir Alexander G. Cardew
K.C.S.I.; I.C.S.
Senior Member, Executive Council, Adyar.

~~Sir~~
Honored Sir,

I humbly beg to bring to your kind notice the following lines trusting that you would pardon my intrusion on your valuable time.

I beg to state that I am the Proprietor and Editor of the "Jarida-i-Rozgar" which is a Daily and Weekly newspaper published in Urdu in Madras. This paper has been in excistence for the past 43 years. Apart from its scope as a journal proper, its object has been to promote the interests of Muslim Community; to inculcate sentiments of loyalty to the Government and a lively sense of gratitude for the many benefits which the community has derived from the "Pax Britannica."

The Great War which has been raging in Europe for the past three years has given the journal further opportunity to testify its loyalty. The war has frequently given rise to a crop of mischievous, false and alarmist rumours emanating from the bazaars bazaars and the "jarida" has promptly and vigorously refuted these rumours. It has dealt with the psychological aspects of the war in a series of articles with a view to bring home to the community the far-reaching issues involved; how nobly the Allies were striving to save civilization from disaster and to create a pure and free political atmosphere in which all nations, great and small, might work out their national destiny untrampelled and take their proper place in the comity of nations. The paper has also published for three months, free of charge, advertisements of the Indian War Loan, and has constantly urged the community to subscribe to the Loan as an obligation of loyalty and as a safe and profitable investment. It is with pardonable pride that I mention it that the Government has favoured me with its expression of thanks in Collector of Madras letter R.O.C No. 202/B.G/1917 dated 10th March 1917. Several members of my family are doing their "little bit" in this war. There is a brother of mine (Dr Md. Abdul Ghaffoor Saheb Sub Asstt. Surgeon) who is at present serving with the British Expeditionary Force at Salonica. In this connection I hope I may give a copy of the warm letter of commendation that his superior Officer, Dr F.F. Strother Smith, the British Surgeon attached to 137, Indian Field Ambulance, Salonica, has given to the Superintendent of the local local Tuberculosis Institute on behalf of my eldest son:-

" I owe this boy's uncle a great debt of " gratitude for the manner in which
"he has helped me during this war
"and I would to help his family in
"this manner."

Although German intrigue and machination fell on barren soil in India, a new and sinister movement has been taking root in this Presidency since the early part of the year 1916. This sinister movement which wilfully shuts its eyes to all sense of historical prospective and is actuated by the basest ingratitude to Government has latterly shaped itself into what is known as the Home Rule movement. The "Jarida" at the outset realised the subtle and sinister forces that were at the back of the movement. In a series of leading articles extending to over some hundreds of numbers of its Daily edition it has striven to rouse the community to the new danger that has, like a miasma, risen in its midst to blight the peaceful progress of the country. In the course of its articles the paper exposed the utter hollowness and bizarre artificialety of their attempt to form an Entente Cordiale - if I may be permitted to use or misuse the term - with the Muslim community on the specious grounds grounds of a common national patriotism. The paper made it clear to the Muslim community that it was fast approaching a crisis in its destiny: that now was the "day of decision":– whither the the community, by its negative attitude of apathy and indifference to its political interests, was going to play into the hands of the forces of reactionism, or whether it would organize its forces and rally round the Government as the emblem of peaceful and orderly progress.

In conclusion I beg to state that I am very ancious to put the paper on a sound working basis so that it could render effective and efficient service to Government. The paper is dependent for its upkeep mainly on the income derived from the copies that are subscribed for by District Collectors and other Government Officials. The income from this source is barely sufficiently to meet the expenses of the paper while the cost of paper and printing materials is rising at an inordinate rate. So I humbly beg that Your Honour will be graciously pleased to extend to me your patronage and assistance in increasing the circulation of the paper and by favouring the paper with Government advertisements, for which act of kindness I shall ever remain grateful.

B

I beg to subscribe myself

Honored Sir,

With due deference and most humble submission and in continuation of my letter No. 24 of 18, dated 4th January 1918, I beg humbly to submit the following with a fervent hope that I will meet with success and begging pardon for the intrusion in your honor's precious time.

I beg respectfully to state that I feel day by day very hard to pull on with the expenses of my journal, and to perform my humble and bounden duty – for which I have bent up my mind till my last breath – of spreading loyalty among Muslims, of refuting all the bazaar rumours if they happen to circulate in the city, of fighting the Great Campaign of Home Rule, and drawing the attention of the Muslims especially Muslim leaders towards Anti-Home rule, as the income which I drive by the purchase of my Daily and Weekly Journal from the District Collectors of this Presidency is quite insufficient. I have taken the liberty of enclosing herein a list of those Collectors who subscribe for my Daily and Weekly Journal for your honor's kind perusal.

In conclusion I beg to request your honor to be gracious enough to consider my humble case and to pass orders for a monthly grant, which your honor deems fit, from the benevolent Government, for my journal for the humble services rendered by this Journal, and to enable this Journal to perform its humble duty and service to the benign Government in future – for which I shall as in duty bound ever pray for your honor's long life and prosperity.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY
7-MAR-1918
GOVT OF MADRAS

The practical effect of the G. of I.'s orders in Telegram of 24 Feb 1917 was that the disloyal and anti-British papers, viz the Hindu, New India, Kistna Patrika, & the two facing both ways papers the Indian Patriot & the Madras Times got full payment for publishing the War Loan advertisement, while more loyal & friendly papers publd at concession rates, & [illegible]rs again published it free. This is an absurd result, as it simply subsidizing the disloyal & it ought to be guarded agst in future. I should like Financial Dept to see this file, so that the question of how we should deal with Govt patronage in the way of advertisement may be considered.

2 As regards the Jarida-i-Rozgar, is it on the list of papers to wh Govt advertisements are sent? Is there such a list, & how is the issue of Govt advertisements controlled?
