the telegram 2210 G, quoted in the present telegram regarding future endorsements on passports to England, refers to passports to women and children only.

The two letters A.L. at the commencement of the body of the telegram make it a little obscure. Probably they refer to some departmental abbreviation intended only for the purposes of the telegraph office. It should may be read as "A.L. (L) passports" or?

The present orders may be recorded, and the instructions observed in the case of women and children's passports alone.

A draft order is subd.
