2. The 'Muhammadan' was started in 1889 and ceased to exist as a newspaper in 1913 owing to certain calamities in the family of the proprietors. It was again revived in May 1920 and is now continuing its ~~career~~ career uninterrupted.

The proprietors and the Editors are Muhammad I. Qatala and his brother Mulla Azam Ali Qatala. The latter is also the printer and publisher.

The registered office is 231 Byculla Road, Rayapeth, Madras.

The present circulation of the paper is 850 and it deals with all subjects political, social, religious etc. and its views are more or less those of 'The Hindu'. It is published every Thursday.

3. I understand from the proprietors that Govt. were supplying them with all the papers intended for Editor's Table till 1913 when the paper ceased to exist.
