Letter—from G. T. Boag, Esq., I.C.S., Superintendent of Census Operations, Madras.

To—the Secretary to Government, Home (Miscellaneous) Department (through the Accountant-General, Madras).

Dated—the 15th February 1921.

No.—720.

I shall be obliged if Government will pass very early orders as to the payment of allowances to enumerators in the City of Madras. In 1911 the enumerators were all officials and each enumerator was paid Rs. 2 to reimburse him for actual expense incurred in doing his work (please see G.O. No. 1977, Revenue, dated 29th June 1911). This year the continuation of the Tramway strike complicates the question, and those enumerators who have to travel any distance are put to considerable expense by way of rickshaw or jutka hire. It is not possible to find in every division of the City a sufficient number of Government servants to do the enumeration of the residents of that division; the majority of the officials available for Census work live in Triplicane or Mylapore; while in Perambur and Tondiarpet there are practically none. My first instruction to the Corporation was that only officials should be employed as enumerators; but in view of the conditions now obtaining, it is impossible to expect a clerk in a Government office to travel from Triplicane to say, Perambur, do some enumeration, and return to Triplicane, before going to his office for his regular work. I am therefore suggesting to the Corporation the desirability of appointing non-official enumerators in the northern part of the City where there are very few Government servants; and I expect to get a sufficient number for a payment not exceeding Rs. 10 each.

2. With regard to Government servants the only fair thing is to offer each enumerator a consolidated allowance calculated on the authorised rickshaw hire from his residence to the block in which his work lies; these fares are As. 3 for the first and As. 2 for every subsequent mile. On the average it may be assumed that it will take each enumerator, doing his Census work in the early morning before going to his office, about 10 days to deal with a block of ordinary size. I propose therefore to fix the minimum allowance for an enumerator at a sum approximately equivalent to his rickshaw fare for 10 days. It will of course be open to any enumerator who claims to be out of pocket to show cause for an increased payment. But in the meantime I request sanction to pay to an enumerator whose work lies within a mile of his residence Rs. 4, to one whose work lies beyond one but within two miles Rs. 6-4-0 and to one whose work lies beyond two but within three miles Rs. 8-8-0. So far the Corporation have appointed 989 officials as enumerators, of whom 832 have work within a mile of their residences, 112 have to go between one and two miles, and 45 have to go between three and four miles. In the event of the Tramway strike collapsing before the Census is over, I would reduce the allowances to Rs. 3, Rs. 4-8-0 and Rs. 6. But in the meantime the preliminary enumeration should begin this week, and some of the enumerators are clamouring to know what allowance they are to receive; so I should be glad if Government would pass orders on this letter without delay. I may add that these proposals have the concurrence of the Revenue Officer of the Madras Corporation. I am sending a copy of it to the Commissioner with the request that he will give his opinion on the proposals.

From the Superintendent, Census Operations, No. 720, dated 15th February 1921.

HOME (MISCELLANEOUS) DEPARTMENT.

In 1911, as well as in 1901, an allowance of Rs. 2 each was paid to the enumerators employed on census duty in the City of Madras—vide G.O. No. 1977, Revenue, dated 29th June 1911. In view of the altered circumstances on the present occasion, the scale of allowances proposed by the Census Superintendent in the case of official and non-official enumerators may be sanctioned. A moiety of the cost involved in the proposals will be borne by the Corporation of Madras, the other half being debited to Census Charges.

A draft order is submitted for approval. As the Census Superintendent presses for early orders, it is submitted that the draft may perhaps issue at once and the file then forwarded to the Local and Municipal and Finance Departments for perusal.
