No. 4. From Colonel J. C. BOULDERSON, Commissioner of Police; to E. MALTBY, Esq., Acting Chief Secretary to Government, Fort St. George, dated 17th October 1857, No. 139.

SIR,

With reference to the orders of Government, under date the 25th Ultimo, No. 1234, I have now again the honor to submit the Roll of Police Officers recommended for pension, corrected; the amount of pension now applied for, being calculated in the manner prescribed by the Police Act. The names of the men whom the Garrison Surgeon could not certify as being unfit to perform any further duty, have been omitted.

4 Jemadars in the year 1854.
Order of Government, dated
1st February 1854, No. 33
P. D.
1 Overseer in the present
year.
Order of Government, dated
7th April 1857, No. 79
P. D.

2. On some former occasion, grant of pension to a few Police of the rank of Jemadar and Overseer has been made, vide order of Government entered in the margin, it would appear that the Government did not allow that any out-door officers of the Police had a right by consequence of their appointment to admission to the benefit of the Uncovenanted Pension Rules previous to the year 1854, and now that a special fund has been by law enacted for the benefit of Police officers, it is not necessary that they should.

The following is an Extract from a letter which I addressed to the Civil Auditor, on the 23rd June 1857, on that subject.

Para. 4. "I think it desirable that the Police Superannuation Fund, should be kept quite separate and distinct from the Uncovenanted Pension Fund, and that every member of the Police Force, should, as a matter of course, become a member of their own Fund.

5. For reasons founded on what may be the chance of promotion of any intelligent man who enters the Police Force as a peon, I think it is highly objectionable that the Jemadars of

Fort St. George, Judicial Consultation, 10th November 1857.

Police should look for support during their old age, from any other source than the Police Fund.

6. Every Jemadar of Police must enter the Force in the rank of a peon, before he attains the rank of a Jemadar, he must therefore be promoted to the grade of Naigue and Duffadar respectively; consequently he will have paid subscription to the Fund for a long period of years in the lower grades before he attains that rank. According to the present rule on promotion to that grade, he ceases to belong to the Police Fund, to become a member of the Uncovenanted Pension Fund. In the course of two or three years, however, that Jemadar might be promoted to the rank of Inspector of the Force, which would bring him back as a subscriber to the Police Fund again. Thus a confusion of accounts would be made, which I think may be easily avoided, if the Police Superannuation Fund is kept entirely distinct from any other. The principles and the object of the Fund are clearly stated in Sections XVII, XVIII and XIX of Act XIII of 1856, and it seems to me that very few rules and regulations are required to carry it into successful operation. The Police Force which is required to perform a certain amount of duty daily, is always kept up to its full strength. Thus full pay for the full number of men, is always drawn monthly and paid, and the deduction of half an Anna per Rupee is made from every Rupee so received and paid. In case any person becomes unfit for the performance of his duty by sickness or other cause, or on occasion of any man obtaining leave of absence, beyond one day, an Omadwar is placed as his substitute during such absence, and the deduction of half Anna per Rupee, which would be made from the pay of the peon were he present for duty, is made from his substitute."

3. Since the establishment of the Fund, the following sums have been paid into the General Treasury to its credit, and no payments have yet been made therefrom.

4. You will observe that the Fund has a good round sum in capital to commence upon; that the average income is Rupees 609-13-1 per month; that for some months to come, the drag upon it will be only Rupees 88-11* per month, and that there will be in all probability, a gradual accumulation for some years to come.

Jemadar Chenderbaun	9	113	5. With reference to 2nd Clause of Extract Minutes of Consultation, under date the 25th March 1857, vide margin, I have the honor to report that Jemadar Chenderbaun has been returned to his duty by the Garrison Surgeon, and that Constable Judge is, as will be seen by the accompanying roll of service, which contains the Garrison Surgeon's Certificate, quite unfit for further duty, and as the Constable has served the Government many years, I beg most respectfully and urgently to recommend that under the provisions of Section XVII of the Police Act, No. XIII of 1856, a gratuity may be granted to him.

(Signed) J. C. BOULDERSON,
Commissioner of Police.

Fort St. George, Judicial Consultation, 10th November 1857.

No. 5. ORDER THEREON, No. 1440; dated 4th November 1857.

With reference to Extract Minutes Consultation No. 1234, dated 25th September 1857, the Commissioner of Police returns with corrections, the Roll of Police Officers, whom it is proposed to pension under Section XVII, Act No. XIII of 1856.

2. The Government will thank the Commissioner in future references of this nature, to number the Peons consecutively and to exhibit as a total the aggregate sum of their pensions. In calculating, further, the amount of each pensionary allowance, fractions of less than a quarter of a Rupee should be omitted. The number of Peons now to be superannuated is twenty-one (21) and the total sum of their pensions is sanctioned at Rupees (87-4) eighty-seven and Annas four per mensem, the same to be debited to the "Police Superannuation Fund."

3. This Fund, it is observed, is now fully established. In the ten months from November to August the monthly income has averaged Rupees 609-13-1; and the present is the first occasion of its being burthened with any allowances to the members of the force. The Commissioner has alluded to one source of income only, viz., the half Anna in the Rupee levied from the salaries of the Peons. The Government suppose he is aware that the monies accruing from the following items are also available; viz:

- I. Stoppages from members of the Police force during absence.
- II. Fines imposed on members thereof for misconduct.
- III. Fines imposed by Magistrates upon drunken persons.
- IV. Fines for assaults on the Police.
- V. From the sale of worn or cast off clothing or other articles supplied for the use of the Police.
- VI. (Vide Section CXV. of the Act) From the sale of unclaimed stray animals.

4. As the sum to the credit of the Fund has now reached a respectable figure, it might be invested, as required by the Act. The Accountant General will furnish his opinion on this point both in regard to the amount now at the credit of the Fund, and its future monthly income.

5. In their orders of the 25th September, the Government, with reference to the wording of the Act, directed the Commissioner to strike out of the Roll all but those of a "class not entitled to the benefit of the Uncovenanted Service Pension Rules." Colonel Boulderson now reports that though, under special circumstances, Jemadars of Police have occasionally been admitted by Government to pension, yet, as a general rule, the 'out-door members' of the force have not been considered eligible to that privilege. As the force has now a general Fund of its own, the Government concur with the Commissioner that it may fairly provide for all disabled members; the aid given by Government in waving all claim to fines of a certain class, &c., being no inconsiderable addition.

6. The Commissioner in para. 5 reverts to the case of Constable James Judge. On a former occasion the Government declined to pension this Officer on the ground of the insufficiency of his service—10 years only. The grant of a gratuity is now suggested. This the Government are pleased to sanction. The Commissioner has authority to disburse to Mr. Judge the sum of Rupees 300, being the equivalent of 6 months' of his late salary. The Register, specifying Mr. Judge's age, height, &c., is returned, no such document being necessary in cases of gratuity only.

7. It is observed that Mr. Judge served some years in other departments. For such service Government cannot of course remunerate him out of the "Police Superannuation Fund." But they will be prepared to do so under the general rules laid down for the 'Uncovenanted Service' on the Civil Auditor informing them (and the question will now be referred to him) what sum is awardable to Mr. Judge for his services in the Road Department and as a Jailor at Guindy.

(Signed) E. MALTBY,
Acting Chief Secretary.
