2. The prisoner Ashary Tayate Poorakel Namboo, was charged with having wounded the prosecutor with a hatchet, but was acquitted by the Session Judge, in concurrence with the Futwa of the Law Officer, on the ground that the act appeared to have been entirely unpremeditated, and committed when the prisoner was in a state of temporary insanity.

As the Zillah Surgeon is of opinion, that it would not be safe at present to release the prisoner, the Judges beg to recommend that he be detained in confinement, under the surveillance of the Zillah Surgeon, for a period of six months, with a view to his case being reported on by the Zillah Surgeon at the termination of that period.
