I have the honor to submit for the sanction of Government, Bills, as per margin, for expenditure incurred in North Canara during the years 1858 and 1859, in connection with the disturbances which have occurred in that part of the district.

2. These Bills are for charges incurred in the erection of temporary buildings at the stations and out-posts occupied by the Troops; the payment of rewards to spies and informers and further include losses incurred in supplying the Troops with provisions, and a Company of Her Majesty's 66th Regiment with certain cots.

3. The item rewards and remunerations calls for no remark from me, the expenditure having been incurred under the eye of the Officers intrusted with the suppression of the Sawunt out-break.

4. The sum paid for buildings is fully accounted for in the Bills herewith forwarded, and the loss on provisions supplied to the Troops being under 6¼ per cent is I think very moderate, considering the nature of the country in which the Troops operated, their frequent marching and counter-marching, and the fluctuations that constantly occurred in the strength of the force employed.
