Fort St. George, Judicial Consultation, 25th February 1859.

No. 31. To the Secretary to the Government of India, dated Fort St. George, 18th February 1859, No. 225.

Sir,

I am directed by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council to state, for the information of the Supreme Government, that a body of Rohillas have lately entered the Kurnool District of this Presidency, burnt and plundered a village in the Doopaud Talook, (recently transferred from the Cuddapah to the Kurnool District) and killed or wounded a few Sowars of the Kurnool Irregular Horse stationed there.

2. On intelligence being received that those free-booters had crossed the Kistna, the Head Quarters and 6 Companies of H. M.'s 74th Highlanders who were proceeding from Hyderabad to Bellary via Mucta, were ordered to march on to Kurnool, and parties of Native Cavalry and Infantry (Regulars) and of the Kurnool and Mysore Horse were pushed on from Bellary, Cuddapah, Kurnool and Ghooty towards the Kistna river.

3. By the latest accounts, the Rohillas had fallen back on the Hyderabad country, but had been attacked in their passage across the Kistna by a party of the 36th M. N. I., who drove them across the river and killed fifteen of them.

4. In reporting these occurrences I am directed to express the hope of the Madras Government, that the Nizam's Government may be moved by the Supreme Government to take such prompt and energetic measures with these marauders as shall effectually prevent their future incursions into the Madras territories.
