an accession of business which has necessitated the frequent attendance of the Clerks in the Summons issue Department until 7 or 8 o'clock at night; and which presses with equal weight on our Chief Clerk by whom the Summonses must be signed after the Summons Clerks have completed their daily work.

Feeling therefore that clerical assistance is absolutely necessary, we beg respectfully to suggest that we be permitted to entertain the services of two additional Writers at Rupees fourteen each. Such assistance, we propose, should be temporary, until we ascertain if it is necessary that the Establishment should be thus permanently increased.
