and lower Fort of Ginja, but the Fort is of little value in a military point of view.

There is only a single Military station in this station. The Police have lately taken the place of the detachment of Native Veterans. There was formerly at Cuddalore. A place for arms and magazine were built six years ago at Mannakkulam, and it was intended that the detachment of Veterans should be lodged close by, but the intention has been abandoned, and the place of arms and magazine have not been used. The small quantity of arms and stores at Cuddalore has been kept for many years in hired buildings. The position of these buildings is very exposed, and I do not think that any other buildings are required at present.

Captain,

CONCLUSIONS

Secretary to Government.

The river is almost dry, and occupies in the delta of the Kaveri, only a narrow channel, which an extended wet weather channel branch. The soil is composed of the alluvial deposits of low undulating hills, consisting chiefly of a hard, red, yellow sand, which is met with the highest that is probably not more than 25 feet above the sea level.

3. A small inlet of about 140 miles forms the eastern and southern boundaries of the District and the strait which is from 7 to 100 miles broad, forms the northern boundary. The straits are navigable for Dhone boats for a distance of from 50 to 100 miles from the coast. All the goods found, and from 6 to 8 miles during the monsoons when the water is high, but the straits are then so strong that the Dhone can not pass. The straits are not great difficulty. Goods for export is brought down in boats to the coast, into the point where the influence of the tides is felt, and which the Dhone can reach.

1. The Districts of the Province are separated by mountains and rivers, and the means of communicating with the adjacent inland Districts are very difficult to keep in order, and are often interrupted. The most important routes are bridged throughout.

5. The use of the same material for the repair of roads, such as I have described above.

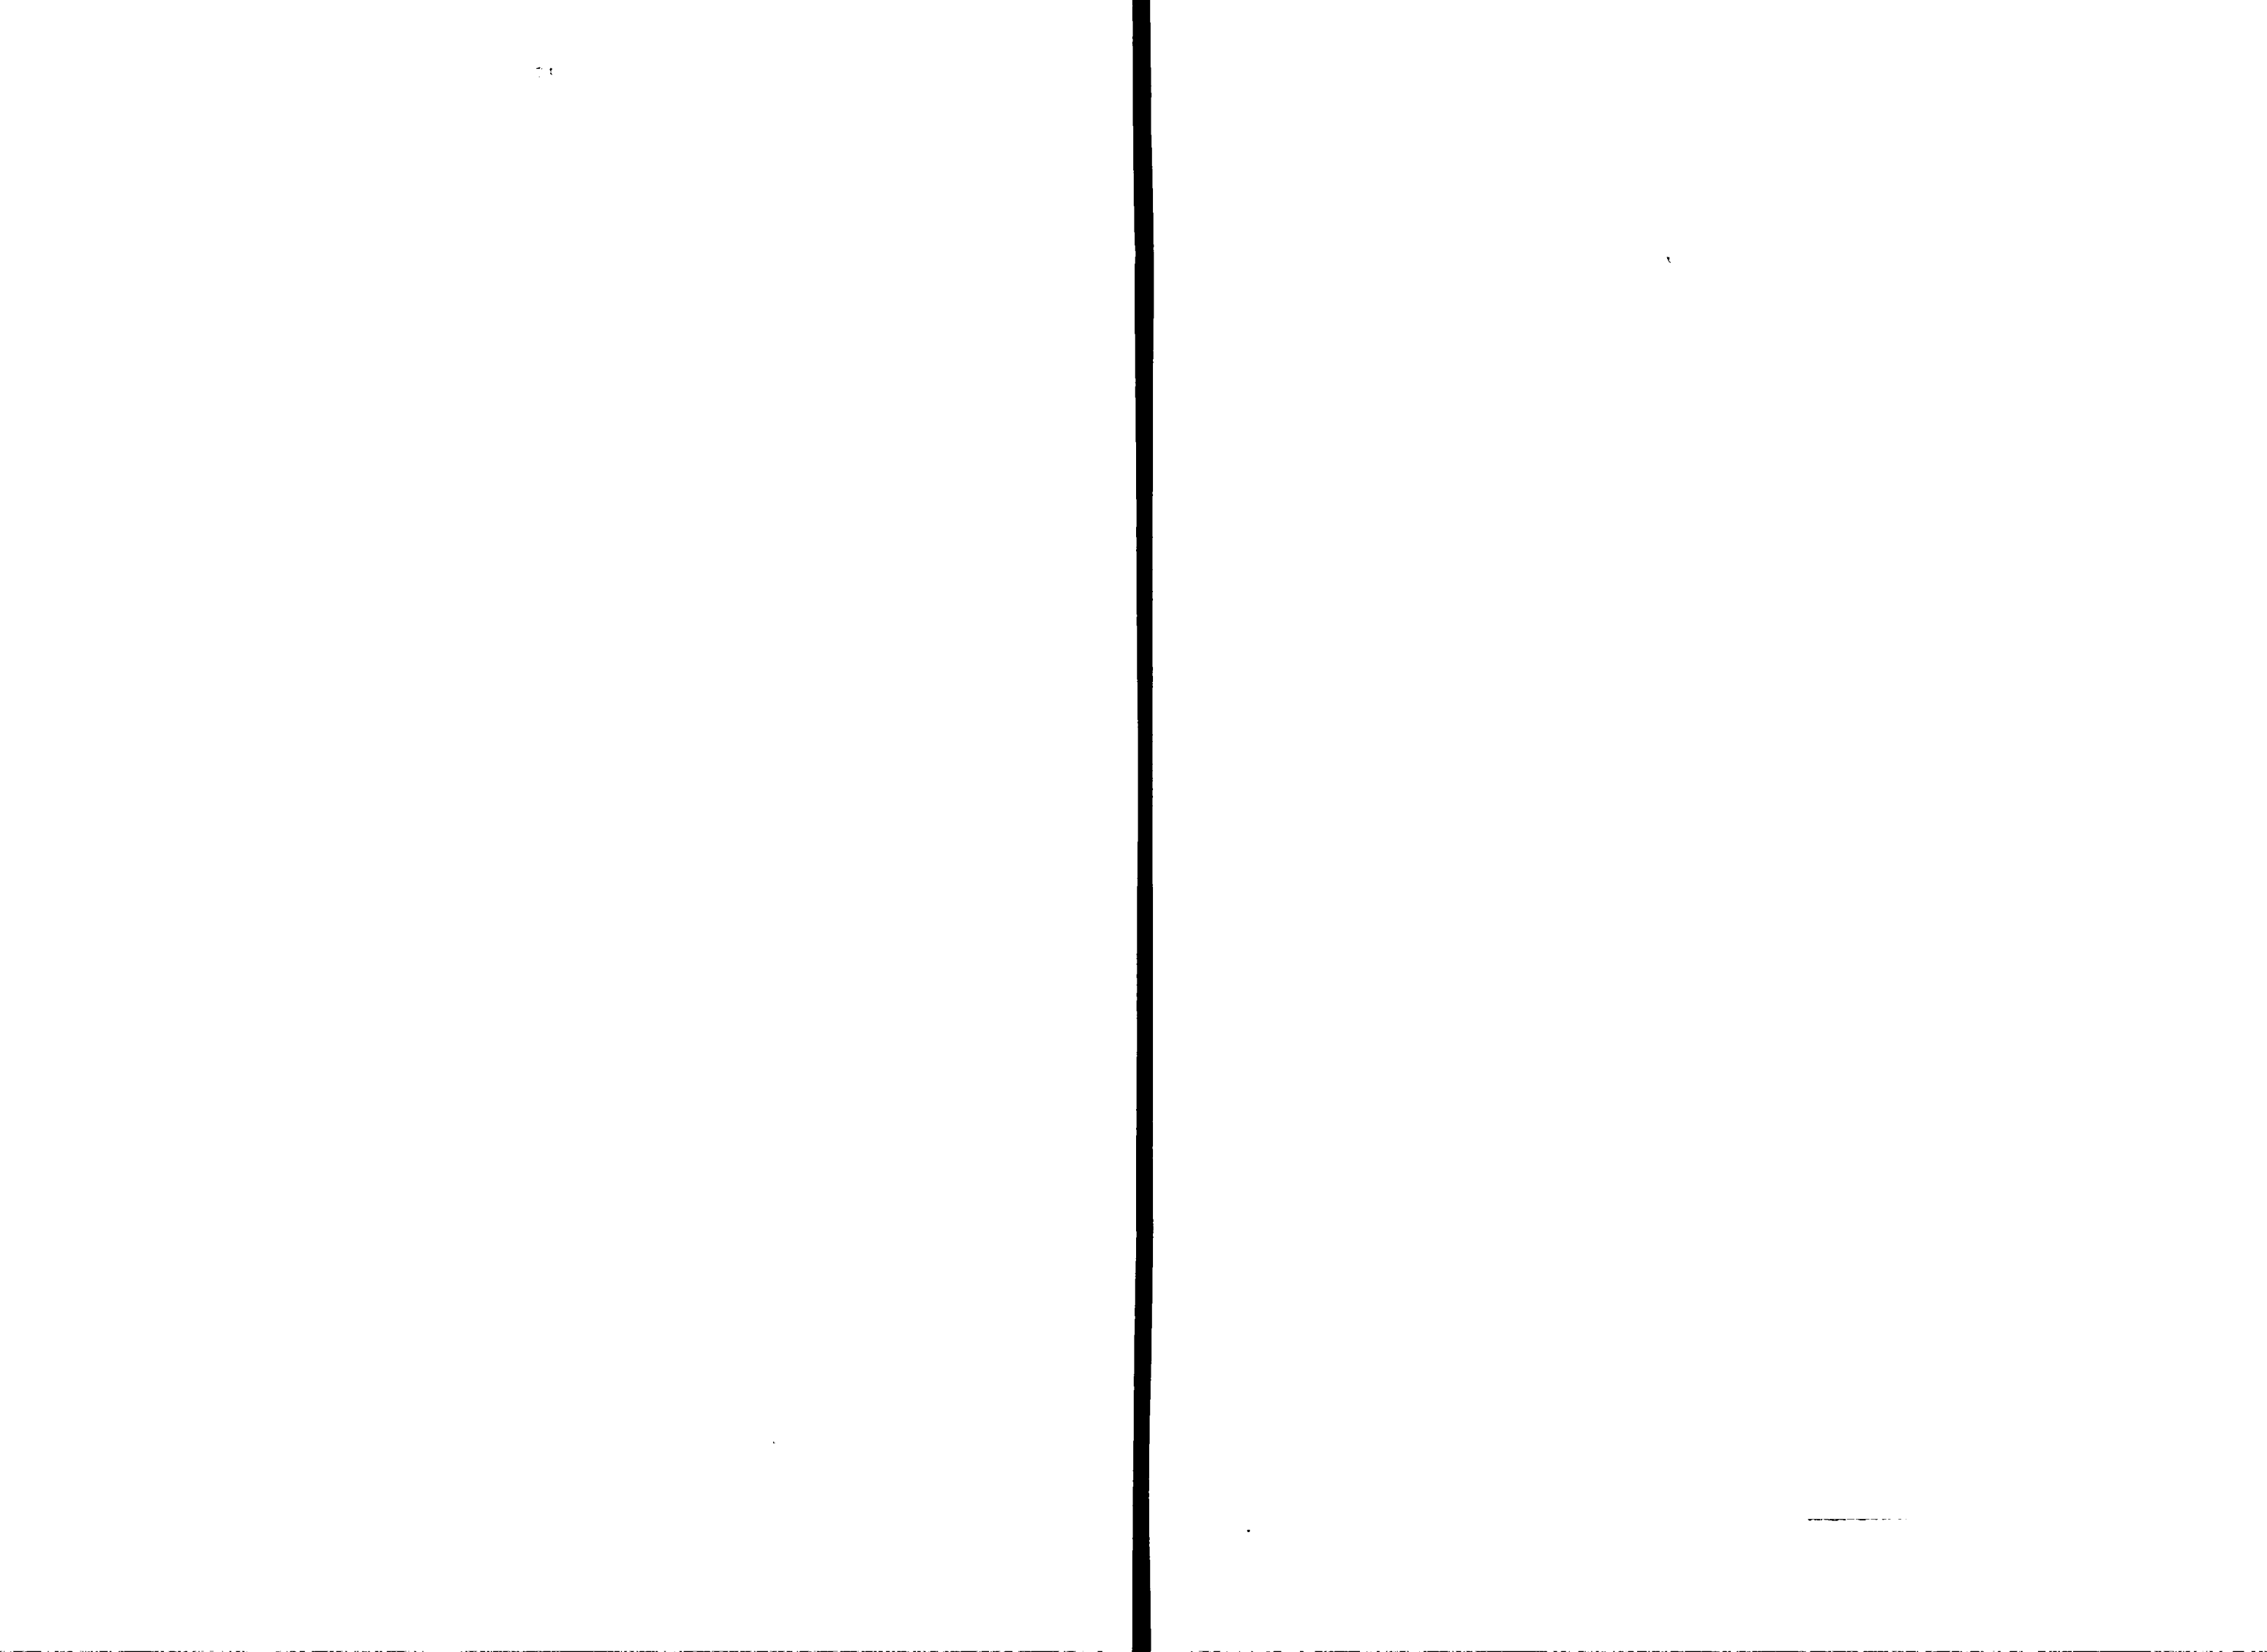

6. If by the nature of the towns their strategic position is weak, and their capability of defence, I have to inform you that the towns could not be easily rendered capable of defence, the great number of the important towns are surrounded by paddy fields, and one or more rivers run through or near them. When the rivers are in fresh and the paddy fields are in the height of the season, the towns might perhaps be defended for a short time.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE MADRAS GOVERNMENT.

Read the following letter :—

From the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, Fort William, 25th July 1862, No. 911; to the Secretary to Government, Military Department, Fort Saint George.

In reply to your letter No. 1696, dated 9th May 1862, I am directed to inquire, whether the Government of Fort Saint George is quite satisfied, that there is nothing in the neighbourhood of Trichinopoly and in the Districts adjacent to it, likely to cause uneasiness in times of excitement, which would create a sudden call for European Troops, in order that the Government of India may feel satisfied that there is no objection to the removal of the European Regiment now there on Civil and Political grounds.

2. The Right Honorable the Governor General in Council observes, however, that although new Barracks will have to be built for a Corps, either at Trichinopoly or Bangalore, yet it seems probable that a greater expense would be incurred at the latter Station, than at the former, where it is presumed, that Government already has the ground, and where possibly the materials of some of the old Barracks might be used.

3. On this point His Lordship in Council is desirous of further information, and also as to whether the Government of Fort Saint George propose to leave the Battery of European Artillery at Trichinopoly after the removal of the European Infantry Regiment.

4. With respect to paragraph 6 of your letter, I am to acquaint you, for the information of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that,—considering that the present Force* at Tonghoo is ample for the purpose for which it is located there, and that from its situation it is not required, nor indeed is able to afford support to any other Station, whilst the force at Rangoon is liable to calls for reinforcements to Thyetmyo, Arracan, and the Tenasserim Provinces, as well as at certain seasons for Tonghoo,—the Governor General in Council is of opinion that the distribution† of European Infantry in British Burmah should be maintained as noted in the margin.

ORDER, No. 3081, 5th September 1862.

From the correspondence‡ recorded in the Proceedings of Government marginally noted, the Governor in Council gathers that the Civil Authorities entertain little or no apprehension of any thing being likely to cause a sudden call for European Troops in Trichinopoly or the neighbouring Districts, should it be decided to remove the Regiment of European Infantry from that Station. To obtain however the latest views of the Civil Authorities on the subject, paragraph 1 of the foregoing letter from the Government of India will be referred for remark to the Revenue and Judicial Departments.

2. Government understand that it is not intended to withdraw the Battery of Artillery from Trichinopoly. Paragraph 2 of the foregoing letter will be referred for report to the Department Public Works.
