His Excellency the Governor General in Council directs that the Department of Police be despatched to the Government about December, be despatched to the Government about Department simultaneously with the original Government

The Inspector General observes that there is a tendency, "when a reduction of Police expenditure is ordered by the Government of India, for this to be effected by saddling the municipalities with the payment, and thereby effecting rather a transfer of cost than of Police maintained by municipal sources we lose India must be considerable so much so that I dare say our revenue is a bit severe we have really in employment

"There is no reason why this should be, for the men are generally the force and ought always to be so, and are subjected to the same rules
