Proceedings of the Madras Government, Judicial Department,
7th March 1862.

No. 67. Read the following Proceedings of the Board of Revenue, dated 7th February 1862, No. 854.

Read letter from J. W. B. DYKES, Esq., Collector of Nellore; to W. HUDLESTON, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Chepauk, dated Udayagiri, 27th January 1862.

1. In my letter of the 9th ultimo, I brought to the notice of the Board,* that it was proposed to make a new entrance into the town of Nellore. I now do myself the honor to report the steps taken to this end.

* Board's Proceedings, No. 7,108, dated 19th December 1861.

2. On laying off the line from Mulapet, it at once became obvious, that the bridge that would be required to take the road over the Nellore tank drainage between Mulapet and the town, would be equally available as an aqueduct should the levels in the town permit the water from the Dumbal sluice being thus brought by a high level channel to the doors of the inhabitants.

3. When, a short time before, I began removing a portion of the old Fort walls facing Mulapet, to make a new burial ground for the Mussalmen, a petition had been presented to Government against my proceedings. Some of the inhabitants were afraid that what I was doing might expose the town to inundations; and the levels then taken in consequence of this petition, gave every reason to believe that the town could be provided with a direct supply by means of an aqueduct raised to a suitable height above the drainage. There were, therefore, tangible grounds to go on in connecting the two schemes; and Captain Mullins having kindly had additional levels taken, which fully proved that the levels would allow of tank water being brought into the town, I called a meeting of native residents, to consider the proper means to adopt for bringing water from the Nellore tank into the town, providing a suitable entrance into the town from the south, instead of by the old Sarvapalli gate, and making such further improvements as might from time to time be deemed requisite.

4. The meeting, which was well attended, was held on the 23rd December, and unanimously resolved, amongst other matters, first, that a Council of six members should be to consult with the Collector in the carrying out of the objects for which the meeting had been called; second, that a subcription list should be opened to meet the expenses attendant thereon; and thirdly, that all disbursements should be by order of the Collector with the sanction of the majority of the Council, the Collector, as President, having a casting vote if necessary.

5. The election of the Council was at once made by each individual present writing on a piece of paper the names of those whom he would wish elected, and, at my request, making two of the number Mussalmen, which might be looked on as fairly representing their numerical proportion to the total population. The lists as soon as written were collected; and the votes, as so given recorded by Deputy Collectors Chenchal Row of the Inam Commission, and C. Naryanaswami Mudaliar of the Salt Department; and I believe, as no notice was given of what was intended, the election could not have been more fairly made, or the people of Nellore more fairly represented.

6. From the enclosed Proceedings the Board will see how well the Council have discharged the trust reposed in them.

7. Altogether 23 properties had to be bought up inside the Fort wall; and at the meeting held on the 8th instant, the Committee deputed to arrange with the owners were able to report the purchase of 19 houses and lands. At a meeting held on the 10th instant, satisfactory progress was recorded in regard to the lands required outside the town; and it gives me much pleasure to add, that from information subsequently received, it would appear the remainder of the land inside the walls has been bought; the new street is being rapidly formed by clearing away the houses which were to be vacated on the 15th instant; and final arrangements have further been made with the Inamdars through whose Inams the new approach passes after leaving Mulapet.

8. The District Engineer has roughly estimated the cost of the bridges at Rupees 10,000; but as we hope to get large subscriptions in kind, as well as convict labour, this estimate is probably above the mark. The subscriptions in kind will include not only materials, but also skilled labour and superintendence; and we wait with confidence the preparation of the detailed estimates and plans kindly promised us by the District Engineer, whose instructions will of course be carefully followed as regards all professional questions.

9. In my former letter I referred to the very great inconveniences of the present entrance by the Sarvapalli gate, but I did not then inform the Board how ill off the town is for water; and the report would be incomplete, were I not now to place the Board in possession of the facts of the case as regards this point also.

10. It seems almost incredible, that so old a town as the town of Nellore, with a magnificent tank not a mile and a half away to the southward and westward, with irrigation channels running all round it, and the Pennair running along the whole length of it to the north, should not have a well from which a man can drink. But such is the case; and raised on the Delta formed bank of the Pennair, every well in the town is brackish. Every drop of drinking water has to be brought from outside; and as the gradual slope of the land in the town will allow of the proposed channels being taken and fountains formed through the greater portion of the town, the Board will see, that the addition to the scheme, as originally proposed, is not only urgently called for, but capable of being made a source of the greatest utility to the inhabitants, and it may be hereafter a means of raising funds for a Conservancy Establishment and the execution of minor works of improvement.

11. At one of the meetings it was brought to notice, that in the famine year water was brought to the Nellore tank from the Anantasagaram tank under the hills some forty miles to the westward. It was taken from the Anantasagaram tank into the Pennair, and down the sandy bed of the Pennair through the river channel into the Nellore tank, that the people might have water to drink. Hereafter, should the town be visited by another such terrible year of scarcity, and the Kurnool and Nellore Irrigation works be completed, the people will not be dependent on local storage. They would have at their door water from the western ghauts where the Gutpurba takes its rise; and trusting that we may be spared another such trial, to the water to be received from the Madras Irrigation Company, we may look nevertheless for our supply for the town during the months when the Nellore tank is dry in ordinary years, and, for the present, we must make a shift to supply our wants by raising water from wells in the bed of the tank, and diverting down the river channel such small stream as is then to be found trickling down the bed of the Pennair.

12. The subscriptions to date in money amount to Rupees 1,495; and, if the Board think that the inhabitants of Nellore have shown a worthy energy in carrying out objects worthy of the efforts made, I trust their conduct may be brought to the favorable notice of Government.

13. I would beg to recommend that the Government should give a sum equal to the amount that may be subscribed by the inhabitants in money and in kind; and in conclusion I beg to request that the Board will permit the publication in the District Gazette of the Proceedings of the Town Council, as it is only thus that the people can be made fully acquainted with what is going on, and can effectually assist in the judicious disbursement of the money they subscribe.

No. 68, ORDER THEREON, 7th March 1862, No. 383.

With these proceedings the Board of Revenue submit for the consideration of Government copy of a letter from the Collector of Nellore, detailing the proceedings of a meeting recently held in the town of Nellore at which the best means of constructing a new approach to the town, as well as bringing water from the Nellore tank were considered.

2. In pursuance of what was then decided on, a Committee was appointed for the purpose of collecting subscriptions from the inhabitants of the town, and carrying out the plans which had been approved. The native community appear to have come forward liberally on the occasion, and the sum of Rupees 1,495 is stated to have been already subscribed in cash, while promises were made of large quantities of materials, &c.

3. The Committee have lost no time in commencing operations, and the Collector reports that 19 holdings of houses and lands required in the formation of the new street have already been purchased at satisfactory rates, and that no doubt is entertained of the speedy completion of the arrangements for the purchase of the rest of the land that is wanted.

4. The Board of Revenue recommend the sanction of Government to the requests made by the Collector on behalf of the Nellore Committee, that the sale proceeds of the Government buildings and site, referred to by Mr. Dykes in his letter on this subject, should be permitted to be credited toward the expenses of the proposed scheme, and that Government should further supplement the local subscriptions by the grant of an equivalent amount.

5. The Government have already in their Proceedings, No. 324 dated the 26th ultimo, disposed of the former portion of this recommendation, which they are unable to comply with for the reasons stated in paragraph 3 of their Order, No. 1,602, dated 4th December 1861; but they are pleased to sanction the grant* from the Nellore Local Fund of the sum of Rupees 1,500 to be expended in aid of the improvements that have been inaugurated in the town of Nellore.

December 28th, 1861.

At the Meeting held yesterday, the following points were mooted by Camili Nárayanaswámi Mudalliar.

1st. Would it not be better to enlarge the present entrance, instead of constructing a new one?

2dly By whom are the works to be conducted?

3dly Could a supply of water be got from the Tank in the hot weather?

4thly What arrangements are to be made for the maintenance of the Works when completed.

And 5th. What arrangements are to be made for making the objects in view generally known.

2. Others also have heard these questions mooted in the Town. Resolved, that they be answered & disposed of. And 1st, As regards the sufficiency of the present entrance by the Sarvápalli Gate, if enlarged, it is to be observed, that one entrance into a Town, however capacious, can never be so convenient as several. Because, when there are several entrances, traffic sorts itself. There is less jostling. Whilst, when there is only one there must be jostling; & in this instance, it may be further observed, the present entrance is the Fish Market & Meat Market. And those, who do not wish to pass such Shops, by taking the new entrance will be enable to avoid them. And, finally, it would be more difficult to bring the water

the inhabitants of the Town.

Tank Channel head- And on this point, it is worthy of being recorded, that Vémuganti Venkata Rás Pantulu states, that when he was Tahsildár of this place in the Famine year of 1833, arrangements were successfully made for bringing water to the Nellore Tank by this means from Anan-
-taságaram-

It is also possible that wells might hereafter be formed in the Nellore Tank bed & its vicinity which worked by Persian Wheels & Prison Labour would supply the Town to a certain extent when the Tank itself is empty & a good supply of water most necessary.

4 On the subject of maintaining the works, when completed, much cannot be decided now. The road way will of course be kept up like the other Roads. But the conservancy of the Channels must be looked to by the people themselves.

And 5th. In answer to the question how the objects in view are to be made generally known, it is hereby ordered, that these Proceedings shall be fair copied & translated, & translation of a fair copy circulated with the Subscription List- Application being made to Government hereafter for permission to publish the same in the District Gazette.

3. Read Report made by Zillálá-
