Read the following letter:—

From the Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, Fort Saint George, 1st May 1862, No. 429; to the Secretary to Government, Military Department.

The Commander-in-Chief having been given to understand that the Licenses issued to the Proprietors of Wine and Beer Shops in the City of Madras, do not prohibit the sale of such Liquors to a European Soldier, as provided for in those issued to the Vendors of Spirits, I have the honor, by order, to bring the subject to the notice of Government; and to express His Excellency's recommendation that in the Licenses hereafter granted to Wine and Beer Shop-keepers, they shall be prohibited from selling their Liquors to European Soldiers.
