Proceedings of the Madras Government, Judicial Department, 16th November 1864.

No. 147. Read the following Despatch from the Right Honorable Sir C. WOOD, Bart., Secretary of State for India; to His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor General of India in Council, dated India Office, London, 15th September 1864, No. 62.

Your Despatch, No. 37, dated the 2nd July, bringing to my notice that under the existing rules relating to Furloughs and Leave of Absence to Judges of the High Courts at Madras and Bombay, the Governor General in Council alone has the power of granting leave to the Chief Justices and Puisne Judges of the High Courts of those Presidencies, who are not Covenanted Civil Servants, has been considered by me in Council.

2. My intention in communicating my Despatch (No. 15) of the 17th February 1863 was that its rules should be understood in relation to the respective Governments to which it applied, and that the Governors in Council of Madras and Bombay should have the same power as to granting leave to Judges of the High Courts of their Presidencies, which the Governor General in Council has as regards those of Bengal. But, as a doubt appears to have arisen on the point, you will now understand me to empower those Governors to grant such leave accordingly.
