Proceedings of the Madras Government, Judicial Department, 5th August 1865.

No. 48. Read the following letter from H. NEWILL, Esq., Resident in Travancore and Cochin, to the Honorable A. J. ARBUTHNOT, Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George; dated Trevandrum, 17th July 1865; No. 59.

I have the honor to state, for the information of Government, that the Travancore State has applied to be relieved of the maintenance of the extra Police Establishment at Anjengo and Tangacherry, 50 Rupees a month.

provided under the Order of Government, No. 322, of the 16th March 1860, for the protection of the Tobacco monopoly.

2. As the monopoly has now ceased, and the duty on Tobacco has been considerably lowered, the temptation to smuggling is not considered sufficient to call for this special protective establishment, which, with the approval of Government, may be at once discontinued.

No. 49. ORDER THEREON, 5th August 1865, No. 1092.

In 1858, the Kolkar or Police establishment of Anjengo and Tangacherry, isolated British villages in the Travancore country, was strengthened, with a view to suppressing the illicit trade in Tobacco which used to be carried on in those villages, and which frequently led to collisions, attended with bloodshed, between the authorities and the smugglers. This extra Force, which cost Rupees 50 per mensem, was sanctioned at first for three months, and then for one year, or "until some change be effected in the Travancore Tobacco monopoly, if within that time." As the monopoly continued, the services of the extra Force were not dispensed with at the expiration of the year allowed, but, under the circumstances, the Travancore Sirkar complied with the application made to it to bear the cost of the additional establishment.

2. As the incentives to smuggling Tobacco have been in a great measure removed by the abolition of the monopoly in the Travancore State, and the reduction of the duty on the article, the grounds which called for the contribution from the Sirkar have ceased to exist. The Governor in Council accordingly consents to the discontinuance of the payment in question, from such date as may be settled by the Resident, in communication with the Inspector General of Police,

(True Extract).
