which prescribes that the list of persons qualified to serve as Jurors shall be revised, at least, once in every year. Instances have already occurred of a miscarriage of justice, attributable to persons having been admitted into, and retained on, the lists, who proved to be wanting in the essential qualifications of education and character required by the law.

2. The Governor in Council requests that the Collectors of the Districts concerned will proceed to prepare new lists early next year, and, that—looking to the importance of the duty, and the care which, for the interests of justice, should be bestowed upon it—they will, as far as practicable, revise the lists themselves, or, if they are prevented from doing so personally, will entrust its performance only to an experienced Covenanted Officer.
