Proceedings of the Madras Government, Judicial Department,
13th March 1866.

Read the following papers :—

No. 89. From the Under Secretary to the Government of Bombay, to the Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George ; dated Bombay, 3rd February 1866, No. 468.

I have the honor to request that you will be so good as to inform me what the rule is in the Madras Presidency in fixing the rate of remuneration allowed to Joint Judges and Additional Judges.

Referred to the Accountant General for the required report.

FORT SAINT GEORGE,
27th February 1866.

(Signed) A. J. ARBUTHNOT,
Chief Secretary.

No. 90. From the Accountant General, Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George, dated 6th March 1866, No. 298.

Post Audit Department.

With reference to endorsement, dated 27th ultimo, on a letter from the Under Secretary to the Government of Bombay, No. 468, dated 3rd idem, the undersigned has the honor to state that in this Presidency there are no such appointments as Joint Judges or Additional Judges.

2. In the Provincial Courts of Appeal and Circuit, however, which existed some years ago, and to which three Judges were generally attached, upon different rates of pay, one Judge acting for another upon a higher salary was not allowed any deputation allowance, the grant thereof having been prohibited to Members of a Court or Board whose duties were similar, though the emoluments were fixed at different rates.

3. I may add, though the appointments are not strictly analagous to those of Joint and Additional Judges, that Subordinate Judges and Assistant Judges—appointments which have recently been abolished in this Presidency—were granted an allowance of Rupees 1400 per mensem, and were permitted to draw deputation allowance, under the deputation rules of the Covenanted Civil Service, when appointed to officiate for a Civil and Sessions Judge, either at the same or another station ; the rule requiring a subordinate to act for his superior Officer in the same station without any deputation allowance for the first month not being enforced in their case, it having been decided by the local Government that a Sub-Judge or an Assistant Judge held an appointment altogether distinct from that of a Civil and Sessions Judge.

No. 91. To the Secretary to the Government of Bombay, dated Fort Saint George, 13th March 1866, No. 370.

With reference to Mr. Under Secretary Birdwood's letter of the 3rd ultimo, No. 468, requesting to know what the rule is in fixing the rate of remuneration allowed to Joint Judges and Additional Judges in this Presidency, I have the honor to forward the accompanying copy of a communication from the Accountant General, from which you will observe that there are no such appointments as Joint Judges or Additional Judges under this Government, but that there were, formerly, Officers designated Subordinate Judges and Assistant Judges, who were in the receipt of a salary of 1400 Rupees a month, and were permitted to draw deputation allowance, under the deputation rules of the Covenanted Civil Service, when appointed to officiate for a Civil and Sessions Judge, either at the same or any other station.
