Proceedings of the Madras Government, Judicial Department, 21st February 1867.

No. 188. Read the following letter from the Inspector General of Police, to the Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George; dated Madras, 13th February 1867, No. 307.

I have the honor to submit Captain E. L. Hankin's resignation of the Police service, with request that his services may be replaced at the disposal of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief at his own request.

2. Declining health deprives the Force of the further services of one of its oldest, ablest and most useful officers, who has contributed much towards the raising the Force of several Districts to its present satisfactory condition.

3. Captain Hankin joined the Police in May 1860, and raised and organized the Police in South Canara with much success and intelligence. In May 1862 he was called on to take up the difficult District of South Malabar, where things had been less successfully managed. Captain Hankin brought matters in that District into excellent working order within a year. In June 1863 he was promoted to act as Deputy Inspector General, Western Range, and did very efficient service in that appointment, until forced by ill-health to return to Europe in the latter end of 1864. On return from sick furlough in May 1866, Captain Hankin took up the difficult District of Salem, then in a very unsatisfactory condition, and he leaves it in a much improved state.

4. Captain Hankin has throughout enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his Magistrates and Departmental superiors. He is an experienced and able Police Officer, and possesses a good working knowledge of Criminal law and practice.

5. I regret to add that I fear that the existing causes of the delicacy which now deprives the Police of Captain Hankin's useful services, were the severe toil and exposure which attended the first organization of the Police, and told more or less sorely on all the Officers who had to bear the burdens of that time.

From Captain E. L. HANKIN, Superintendent of Police, Salem District, through Deputy Inspector General of Police, Western Range, to the Inspector General of Police; dated Salem, 2nd February 1867.

I regret, owing to failing health, to be obliged to ask you to be good enough to accept my resignation, and to forward the same to the Right Honorable the Governor in Council, with a request that my services may be placed at the disposal of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, who has kindly promised to permit me to do duty with the Depôt at Wellington.

No. 189. ORDER THEREON, 21st February 1867, No. 278.

Captain Edward Lewis Hankin is permitted at his own request to resign his appointment as Superintendent of Police and his services are replaced at the disposal of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief.

2. The Governor in Council has learnt with much regret that failing health has compelled Captain Hankin to leave the Police Department in which he has rendered such valuable service from the first formation of the Force.
