MEMORANDUM.

The Chief Secretary requests that Colonel Orr will be good enough to inform him what portion of the gallows proposed to be erected at Chittoor can be removed when not required, and suggests that, if not too late, the plan of gallows at Bangalore, be adopted, which can be lowered out of sight when not required.

No. 183. From the Assistant Engineer, Chittoor Range, to the Superintending Engineer, 4th Division; dated Canpacum, 7th December 1867, No. 377.

In reply to your No. 4233, dated the 5th instant, I have the honor to report that the whole of the wood and iron work of the proposed gallows at Chittoor can be removed very easily when not required.

2. The cross piece of iron is first taken off, and then the uprights are drawn out of the stone sockets, carried away, and put under cover; the drop is lifted off the masonry bearings and removed also.

3. The design was taken from the plan of the Penitentiary gallows, which was sent to me by Colonel Bean for information.

4. The material for the masonry platform has been collected, but it is not too late to adopt the plan of gallows at Bangalore, should it be considered preferable, and I shall, as you suggest, write to-day to the Executive Engineer of Bangalore, for a copy of the plan.

No. 181. From the Assistant Engineer, Chittoor Range, to the Superintending Engineer, 4th Division; dated Chittoor, 19th December 1867, No. 399.

In reference to your No. 4233, dated the 5th instant, I applied to the Executive Engineer, Bangalore, for a copy of the plan or sketch of the Bangalore gallows.

2. I received the enclosed plan from that Officer yesterday, and I beg to forward it to you now, for your decision as to whether this or the plan already submitted to you is to be adopted for the proposed gallows at Chittoor.

3. The site of the proposed gallows at Chittoor is not more than one-fourth of a mile from the Jail, which is not too far to have the wood work of the original plan carried, in order to be placed out of site and under cover. There is, therefore, no need of the stone and apparatus attached to the Bangalore gallows, which must be much more expensive, and seems to possess no advantages over the plan already laid before Government.

1. I have collected materials for the masonry required, but I shall await your instructions before proceeding further.

No. 4636.

Submitted to Government in continuation of endorsement, No. 4330, dated 11th December 1867, with plan of the gallows at Bangalore.

2. The Assistant Engineer of Chittoor thinks that the Bangalore plan possesses no advantage over the plan designed by himself, an opinion in which the Superintending Engineer concurs.

3. Early orders are solicited, as the Assistant Engineer is waiting final instructions before he proceeds with the superstructure.
