Proceedings of the Madras Government, Judicial Department, 12th February 1868.

No. 154. Read the following letter from the Acting Joint Magistrate of Nellore, to the Acting Magistrate of Nellore; dated Adanki, 16th January 1868, No. 8.

I have the honor to request that you will be good enough to bring to the notice of Government the gallant conduct of Condapaneni Subbaya, a ryot, and Pachava Venkatadri, Village Magistrate of Challagarigela, in the Taluq of Kanigiri.

into a well close by. Subbaya followed and jumped in after him, and as both appeared to be sinking, the Village Magistrate, Venkatadri, jumped in also, and the two succeeded in getting the prisoner to the steps.

A Head Constable, who measured the well, corroborates the story told by these persons that there was two men's depth of water in the well, and a depth of over four men's height from the top of the parapet round the well to the surface of the water.
My principal sources of information on this matter are the statements of Subbaya and Venkatadri, but I have every confidence that their story is correct; they mentioned the circumstances incidentally in the course of their depositions on the subject of the attempted suicide, and without the slightest idea that they had done any thing extraordinary or peculiarly creditable.

3. I would take the liberty of requesting that Subbaya and Venkatadri be each presented with a gold bangle of 25 Rupees, as an acknowledgment of their bravery in leaping into a deep well to save a man from drowning, and as an encouragement to others to exert themselves in a like manner.

Sir,

I have the honor to request that you

2. In December last, a prisoner was in custody at the Village Savady & suddenly by broke loose & threw himself into a well close by. Subbaya followed & jumped in after him & as both appeared to be sinking, the Village Magistrate Vantatadi jumped in also & the two succeeded in getting the prisoner to the steps. A Head Constable who measured the well corroborates the story told by these persons that there was two surface of the water. My principal sources of information on this matter are the statements of Subbaya & Vantatadi, but I have every confidence that their story is correctly mentioned the circumstances incidentally. The course of their depositions has been on the subject of the 1st & 2nd suicide and without the slightest idea that that they had done any thing extraordinary or peculiarly creditable.

I would take the liberty of requesting that Subbada & Kuthaidri be each presented with a gold bangle of 25 rupees as an acknowledgment of their bravery in leaping into a deep well to save a man from drowning and as an encouragement to others to exert themselves in a like manner.

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

2. Once the problem is identified, the next step is to define the objectives and goals of the project. This helps to clarify what needs to be achieved and provides a clear direction for the team.

3. The third step is to develop a plan or strategy to address the problem. This involves breaking down the problem into smaller, manageable tasks and determining the resources needed to complete each task.

4. The fourth step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the strategy into action and monitoring progress regularly to ensure that the project is on track.

5. The final step is to evaluate the results of the project. This involves assessing the outcomes against the objectives and goals and identifying any areas for improvement or further action.

1. The first part of the document is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of contacts. The names are written in a cursive script, and the addresses are listed below them. The list includes names such as "Mr. J. H. Smith", "Mrs. A. B. Jones", and "Mr. C. D. Brown".

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a continuous function and that it satisfies the functional equation $f(x+y) = f(x) + f(y)$. The function $f(x)$ is also shown to be differentiable and its derivative is found to be $f'(x) = f(x)$. This implies that $f(x) = Ce^x$ for some constant C . The value of C is determined by the initial condition $f(0) = 1$, which gives $C = 1$. Therefore, the function $f(x)$ is the exponential function $f(x) = e^x$.
