Report of the Inspector-General of Police Madras 1st Sept. 1867.

1. Foreign emissaries, real or suspected.

2. Political intrigues.

3. Political or social excitements or movements.

4. Religious excitements or new, or special organizations.

5. Criminal classes, any unusual gathering or movement.

14. A right and left hand (also agitation) has ensued in ^{1883/2} since time we formerly between the Maronis (right) on one side and the Shamas (left) on the other. This agitation has lately become considerably increased owing to the presumptuous behaviour of the Shamas who put forward some sort of claim to be the descendants of Kishabryal - and to have the right to wear the "pina. hui" a sacred dress.

A large number of Shamas assembled at Shannandane near the Kuthaci Valley, Tsimmerly Port, to force a marriage upon a certain Kuthaci palatine - and it might have become a serious disturbance - but the Ag. Inspector quelled the matter and no riot took place.

iii - A Maron and Shamas met at Gelassian Maron Lake Lake - Some Shamas abused a Maron woman last year and were fined - their sentence was however lately quashed and the fine re-levied - On this the Marons, seeking to think that they had not received justice, came and set fire to the Shamas' house - so as to know how much they could get for the house and its contents.
