where there are no European troops) report that no registration of prostitutes is in force in any cantonment under them.

4. The Government of India desire to lay particular stress on the following points :—

- (a) That venereal disease is not to be treated by station or regimental authorities in any way differently from any other contagious disease.
- (b) That any person becoming aware of, or suspecting the existence of, any contagious disease is bound (by law) to report it to the proper medical authority.
- (c) That on a medical authority certifying that a person is suffering, or supposed by such medical officer to be suffering, from a contagious disease, that person has the option of either (i) going to hospital, or (ii) leaving the Cantonment. But (iii) such a person cannot be compulsorily sent to hospital.
- (d) That prostitutes are not allowed to reside in regimental bazars, or to accompany regiments on the march.
- (e) That no separate register or list of prostitutes is allowed to be kept in station bazars, nor any special examination of them to be permitted, other than would take place in the case of any other contagious disease; nor any other action tending to convey the idea that they are in any way licensed or countenanced by Government.

5. I am accordingly to request the issue of a confidential circular memo. to the above effect to all General Officers Commanding Districts in Bengal; a copy of this letter will be sent to the Governments of Madras and Bombay for similar action.

No. 322. From the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Military Department, dated Simla, the 4th July 1892, No. 3115-D.

I am directed to forward the accompanying copy of a letter* addressed to the Quarter Master General in India, requesting the issue of a confidential circular Memorandum to all General Officers Commanding Districts in Bengal, on the subject of the treatment of venereal and other contagious diseases, and the prohibition of registration and residence of prostitutes in regimental bazars.

2. With reference thereto, I am to request that His Excellency the Governor in Council may be moved to cause similar confidential circular memoranda to be issued to all General Officers Commanding Districts in Madras.

ENCLOSURE.

From the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Quarter Master General in India, dated Simla, the 29th June 1892, No. 3034-D.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letters marginally noted, regarding the observance of the rules issued under the Cantonment Act, in so far as concerns venereal diseases.

2. In reply, I am directed to express the satisfaction of the Government of India at finding that the Commander-in-Chief is upon the whole convinced that the act and the rules are being duly observed. In one or two instances, the action of the local military authorities has fallen short of what is considered necessary, but the Government of India observe that His Excellency has taken immediate steps to call the attention of those concerned to their neglect of orders and to insist on the absolute fulfilment of the instructions which have been issued.

3. I am to bring to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief that your circular of 12th May 1888 only forbids the residence of registered prostitutes in bazars, but the registration of prostitutes having been forbidden by circular of the 6th August 1888, the circular of the 12th May, which does not apply to unregistered prostitutes, would not have the effect of prohibiting these latter from residing in the bazars of British cantonments. This point will be made clear by the issue of instructions based on (e) in the following paragraph, but meanwhile it is satisfactory to note that the Commanders-in-Chief, Madras and Bombay, and all General Officers Commanding troops in Bengal (except in Assam and the Punjab Frontier Force,
