To

THE Chief Secretary to Government, Judl. Department,
Madras.

SIR,

With its order N^o. 1795 dated 21st July 1894, Government was pleased to supply each of the Stationary Sub-Magistrate's Courts with a copy of Annadurai Esq's Criminal Courts Manual. There being no such handy book for reference in this office, the several volumes of General Acts of India, Gazette Copies of acts and the Madras Code have been taken into Camp. To save expense in Cart hire, I have the honour to request that a copy of the said manual be supplied for the use of my office. The cost of the book is, I believe, a little less than Rs 5.

For orders.

In the first current the D.M. of Malabar requests that the Cantonment Magistrate of Malapurm may be supplied with a copy of Annadurai Aiyer's Criminal Court Manual. On the 11th noting upon it that the Cant. mag. is in a position to buy books of this description & that he has only very limited powers with, of buying offences against Cantonment rules the C.S. ~~was~~ wanted to see the book. As the book was not available in our library, a copy has been obtained for loan from the High Court & is herewith submitted for inspection.

* vide Cur. 1958/95

Cur. 1906 is another application from the D.M. of Luddapah for a copy of the same manual - for his office use. His reason is that there is ^{in his office} no such handy book for reference & that the expense in cart hire to carry the several volumes of laws at acts of India, Quarte copies of acts & Madras Code will be avoided. - This will be an awkward precedent, but the reason seems a good one.

MD
6/6/95

In G.O. July 1894, no. 1795, Tuddl, the Govt. resolved to supply each stationary submagistrate with a copy of Annadurai Aiyer's "Criminal Court Manual" which contains all the enactments necessary for practical purposes. This book was selected as the most suitable one both as regards cheapness (its price being ^{only} Rs. 1/- per copy) and ~~the~~ ^{comprehensiveness} ~~extent of its usefulness~~. It contains 141 Acts in all.

2. On the D.M. of Nilgiris recommending the supply of a copy of the manual to each of the three Dy. Tahsildars in his district, the Govt. accordingly sanctioned the supply of 3 copies in G.O. 27 Decr 94, no. 2982, Tuddl.

3. 121 copies in all were purchased & sent for Rs. 605 and distributed to the officers concerned as per distribution list enclosed. The charge was debited to 19 (A) Law & Justice - Criminal Courts. vide G.O. 16 Feb 95, Rno. 147, Tuddl. Final.

now requests that a copy of the Manual may be supplied to the Cantonment Magistrate of Malapuran to enable him to discharge his work as such magistrate. It ^{is to be remarked} that this officer has only very limited powers, viz, of trying offences against Cantonment rules - vide G.O. of 27th Octr 1894, No. 2510 Post.

The supply of the same seems unnecessary.

5. On the second current (No. 1906) the D.M. of Cuddapah asks for a copy of the same manual for his office use. His argument is that there is in his office no such handy book for reference & that the expense in cart hire ^{involved in} carrying the several volumes of general Acts of India, Gazette copies of Acts & Madras Code will be avoided.

6. As the book was not available in the office library, a copy has been obtained for loan from the High Court & is submitted

25.5.95

The arguments of the D.M. Magistrate of Cuddapah is not worth much; whether he carries the acts mentioned or not would not make any difference in cart-hire. The book is a handy one and if the Clerk who usually works a copy book up for an hour or more he can try to himself.

When I was a D.M. Officer I always had
