SIR,

I have the honor to bring to the notice of Government that owing to heavy monetary transactions Post Offices are supplied with iron cash chests and these are required under the rules of this Department to be embedded in the ground whether they are kept in the Post Offices themselves or in the custody of the Police at Police Stations or in the Treasury Guard rooms, in order to afford greater protection and to prevent their being carried off by thieves.

2. As in many instances these cash chests are kept at the Police Stations and in the Treasury Guard rooms and lately the Head Assistant Collector of the Krishna District declined to allow the embedding of the Post Office chest in the new Taluq building at Nandigama although in the old building it had been so embedded, I beg that Government will be pleased to accord its general sanction to the embedding of Post Office Cash Chests in the floors of Police Stations and Treasury Guard rooms at all places where such a course may appear necessary for safety.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

H. J. Hanu
