From Colonel P. J. MAITLAND, Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Public Department, dated Simla, the 26th July 1895, No. 2127-B.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of letter, No. 4317, dated the 12th July 1894, from the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Military Department, forwarding correspondence relative to the supply of articles of jail manufacture to the departments of the Government of India. The Inspector-General of Jails, Madras, represents that the orders contained in paragraph 7 of Government of India (Home Department) Resolution, No. 10–605–18, "Judicial," dated the 7th May 1886, are generally neglected, with the result that the development of jail industries is checked and the public funds wasted. His Excellency the Governor in Council has accordingly issued the necessary orders to heads of departments of the Civil administration for obtaining jail supplies, and it is requested that similar instructions may be issued to the various branches of the Military Department obtaining supplies in the Madras Presidency. It is further suggested that the Commissariat Department, Madras, should furnish the Inspector-General of Jails annually with a forecast, prepared a year in advance, of the main supplies of cotton, woollen and coir articles which will be required, and a statement of the rates which will be offered; and thus give the Jail Department an opportunity of deciding whether it could undertake the contract for their supply.

2. In reply I am to state, for the information of His Excellency the Governor in Council, that the procedure under which the Commissariat Department obtains supplies from jails is defined in paragraph 609, Army Regulations, India, Volume V, and if these orders are fully complied with, the Government of India are of opinion that they will secure all that the Inspector-General of Jails, Madras, requires. No complaints have been received by the Government of India from other provinces as to the inadequacy of the regulations quoted, and the Government of India has learnt with regret that in Madras the provisions of the paragraph above noted have not been as fully acted up to as they should have been, but the Commissary-General, Madras Command, has taken the necessary steps to remedy this in future, and it is hoped th[illegible]any cause of complaint on the part of the Madras Jail authorities will thus be r[illegible]ved.

3. The attention of all heads of departments under the Military Department which use jail manufactures will be invited to the orders issued by the Government of India in 1886 and 1887 regarding the utilisation of jail manufactures, and they will be asked to comply with those orders.

From Colonel P. J. MAITLAND, Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Public Department, dated Simla, the 26th July 1895, No. 2127-B.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of letter, No. 4317, dated the 12th July 1894, from the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Military Department, forwarding correspondence relative to the supply of articles of jail manufacture to the departments of the Government of India. The Inspector-General of Jails, Madras, represents that the orders contained in paragraph 7 of Government of India (Home Department) Resolution, No. 10–605–18, "Judicial," dated the 7th May 1886, are generally neglected, with the result that the development of jail industries is checked and the public funds wasted. His Excellency the Governor in Council has accordingly issued the necessary orders to heads of departments of the Civil administration for obtaining jail supplies, and it is requested that similar instructions may be issued to the various branches of the Military Department obtaining supplies in the Madras Presidency. It is further suggested that the Commissariat Department, Madras, should furnish the Inspector-General of Jails annually with a forecast, prepared a year in advance, of the main supplies of cotton, woollen and coir articles which will be required, and a statement of the rates which will be offered ; and thus give the Jail Department an opportunity of deciding whether it could undertake the contract for their supply.

2. In reply I am to state, for the information of His Excellency the Governor in Council, that the procedure under which the Commissariat Department obtains supplies from jails is defined in paragraph 609, Army Regulations, India, Volume V, and if these orders are fully complied with, the Government of India are of opinion that they will secure all that the Inspector-General of Jails, Madras, requires. No complaints have been received by the Government of India from other provinces as to the inadequacy of the regulations quoted, and the Government of India has learnt with regret that in Madras the provisions of the paragraph above noted have not been as fully acted up to as they should have been, but the Commissary-General, Madras Command, has taken the necessary steps to remedy this in future, and it is hoped that any cause of complaint on the part of the Madras Jail authorities will thus be removed.

3. The attention of all heads of departments under the Military Department which use jail manufactures will be invited to the orders issued by the Government of India in 1886 and 1887 regarding the utilisation of jail manufactures, and they will be asked to comply with those orders.

The Inspector-General of Jails, Madras, represents that the orders contained in paragraph 7 of Government of India (Home Department) Resolution, No. 10–605–18, "Judicial," dated the 7th May 1886, are generally neglected, with the result that the development of jail industries is checked and the public funds wasted. His Excellency the Governor in Council has accordingly issued the necessary orders to heads of departments of the Civil administration for obtaining jail supplies, and it is requested that similar instructions may be issued to the various branches of the Military Department obtaining supplies in the Madras Presidency. It is further suggested that the Commissariat Department, Madras, should furnish the Inspector-General of Jails annually with a forecast, prepared a year in advance, of the main supplies of cotton, woollen and coir articles which will be required, and a statement of the rates which will be offered; and thus give the Jail Department an opportunity of deciding whether it could undertake the contract for their supply.

2. In reply I am to state, for the information of His Excellency the Governor in Council, that the procedure under which the Commissariat Department obtains supplies from jails is defined in paragraph 609, Army Regulations, India, Volume V, and if these orders are fully complied with, the Government of India are of opinion that they will secure all that the Inspector-General of Jails, Madras, requires. No complaints have been received by the Government of India from other provinces as to the inadequacy of the regulations quoted, and the Government of India has learnt with regret that in Madras the provisions of the paragraph above noted have not been as fully acted up to as they should have been, but the Commissary-General, Madras Command, has taken the necessary steps to remedy this in future, and it is hoped that any cause of complaint on the part of the Madras Jail authorities will thus be removed.
