the time of my ancestry and it is needless for me to repeat that if my uncle Doctor Alexander Maxwell who was a Physician General in the Bombay Presidency for a considerably long time had not met with an untimely end I should perhaps not have been reduced to my present state; and in the circumstances I think I have every right to claim the protection of the benign British Government. I don't wish to aspire to anything high but only seek for employment in the lower grades of the Police Force.

With due respects

I beg to Remain
Sir,

Your most obedt & humble servant.
