His Excellency the Governor in Council
Fort St George
Madras

The humble petition of Anthony Madan prisoner sentenced to death by the Sessions Judge Limerick in C.C. No 81 of 1894 and Crown No 1277 in the District Jail Palamcottah
Most respectfully Sheweth

1. That the petitioners appealed against the sentence to the High Court of Madras which has confirmed it.

4. That when the petitioner was in sound health, he used to climb Palmyra trees and thus obtain livelihood for himself and his wife sufficiently, but that he fell down from a Palmyra tree about six months ago and from that time he was unable to climb such trees. He was compelled, then, to have recourse to easy work to obtain livelihood such as the cutting of leafy stalks to cultivators for manuring the

...lones earned
one anna per day which enabled him to buy the Articles of diet just enough to give him and his wife half meals a day
III. That the petitioners wife became incensed at this short income, and from the day the petitioner fell down from a Palmyra tree his wife was scolding him almost every day in the presence of their neighbours and relatives, using most vulgar & reproachful words and even on the night of the occurrence of Murder she dealt with the petitioner the same way. This made the petitioner suddenly get out of temper and kill his wife as he could not control himself & was unanswerable for his actions.

IV. The petitioner committed the deed, therefore under the superlative degree of Anger which is short Madness or insanity

In conclusion the petitioner implores His Excellency the Governor in Council to send all records of the case from the Substrates and Session Courts, to peruse and give a sound consideration to the 27th Feb forth for the Commission of Murder

prerogative of Mercy which is only vested in His Excellency by ordering the release of the petitioner from the Jail.

JUDGMENT IN

TINNEVELLY SESSION CASE NO. 81 OF 1894.

Committed by M. Kanthimathy Pillai, Stationary 2nd Class Magistrate of Nanguneri.
Prisoner.

EMPRESS. V. ... Anthoni Nadan. (Defended by Pleader Kanthimathinatha Pillai).

OFFENCES. ... Murder and attempt to commit suicide under sections 302 and 309, I. P. C.

ASSESSORS. ... One Vellala and one Brahmin.

OPINION OF ASSESSORS. ... Guilty.

FINDING OF JUDGE. ... Do.

SENTENCE. ... To be hanged by the neck until he is dead.

The accused in this case is charged with having murdered his wife and with having tried to commit suicide afterwards.

2. Six witnesses have been examined for the prosecution. The first is the grandmother of the deceased woman. She states that the accused and his wife were sleeping inside the house with the door fastened on the inside while she was sleeping on the pyall outside. There was nobody else in the house at the time. Towards morning she heard cries inside the house and asked what the matter was. There was no reply at first but soon afterwards the accused opened the door and came out. His clothes were covered with blood and he was bleeding from a wound on his neck. The witness went inside and found her grand daughter lying on the cot dead with wounds on her neck and back. A blood stained bill-hook was found under the cot. The second and third witnesses came up on hearing the alarm and saw the accused and the dead body. The accused admitted that he had killed his wife and that he had attempted to kill himself.

3. The fourth witness is the Village Munsif and the fifth is the Police Constable who took the corpse to the Hospital.

4. The accused admits having killed his wife but states that he did so in a fit of insanity.

5. The sixth prosecution witness is the mother of the deceased woman. She states that the accused never suffered from fits of any kind and never showed any symptoms of insanity. All the other prosecution witnesses who were acquainted with the accused give evidence to the same effect.

6. The accused was under the observation of the Civil Apothecary of Nanguneri for fourteen days. The Apothecary has certified that he could find no signs in the accused of unsoundness of mind.

359

7. No motive for the murder has been suggested.

8. The defence is that the accused was suddenly seized with a fit of homicidal mania under the influence of which and when he was no longer responsible for his actions he killed his wife and attempted to kill himself afterwards.

9. I am unable to believe that there is any truth in the defence theory. The wound which the accused inflicted on himself does not seem to have been very severe and I do not believe that he really made any serious attempt to take his own life. The fit of homicidal mania which he is supposed to have had is said to have come on without any premonitory symptoms and to have passed away without leaving any traces behind it. The action of the accused in calmly announcing shortly after the event that he had killed his wife in a fit of madness does not seem to me like the act of a mad man.

10. It is of course impossible to say what transpired behind the closed doors of the house on the night of the murder. It is probable, however, that the accused had a quarrel with his wife and that he killed her in a fit of passion. His own words in the Sessions Court indicate that this is the correct solution. When called upon to plead to the charge of murder he said "I murdered my wife—She spoke disgracefully and so I killed her".

11. I find the accused guilty of murder and am unable to find any extenuating circumstances. He is sentenced to be hanged by the neck until he is dead under section 302, I. P. C.

12. The accused is informed that if he wishes to appeal he must do so within seven days. He notifies his intention of appealing.

15th November 1894.

Ag. Session Judge.

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT MADRAS.

Tues day, the fifteenth day of January,
One thousand eight hundred and ninety-three five.

PRESENT :—

The Honourable Sir Arthur J. H. Collins Kt. Chief Justice.
and
The Honourable Mr. Justice Parker.

Referred Trial No. 60 of 1894

Anthony Nandan — Prisoner.

Trial referred by the Court of Session of the Trincomalee Division for confirmation of the sentence of death passed upon the said Prisoner in Case
No. 81 of the Calendar for 1894.

CRIMINAL APPEAL No. 584 of 1894

Appeal by the Prisoner against the said Sentence.

This case coming on for hearing, after receipt of further evidence called for in the order of this Court, dated 12th December 1894, the Court delivered the following Judgment:— There is no doubt that the prisoner killed his wife and the only question is whether

he committed the act under the impulse of homicidal mania.

We adjourned the case in order that further evidence might be taken with regard to the prisoner's state of mind,

and all the evidence taken goes to negative the suggestion that the prisoner has been subject to any such attack of homici--cidal mania. It is of course impossible to tell what motive prisoner may have had for committing the crime. His statement before the Sessions Court that

3.
that "she spoke disgracefully and so I killed her" may have had some foundation, but it was not alleged at first and may have been a mere after-
-thought and an excuse.

We cannot see that any ground has been shown either for holding the prisoner to have committed the murder during an attack of insanity, or for mitigation of sentence.

We must confirm the con-viction and sentence and dismiss the appeal.

By the Court.

The P^{et}. admits the fact of the murder.
Before the Sess. Ct. he pleaded an attack of homicidal mania, of which there was no evidence at all possible. Now he says he lost his temper because his wife abused him (she had frequently continuously done so) on the ground of his failure (through an accident, he says) to earn a sufficient income to maintain them in decent comfort in their humble way of life. There is no evidence as to the accident, nor as to the frequent abusiveness of the wife; but admitting her abusiveness both before & on the night on which he was killed by the P^{et}., the question is whether there is any reason for remitting the death penalty.
I think not. The object of hanging men who kill their wives, because they are abusive & imitating is to prevent other men from following their example.

I agree that there is no sufficient ground for interfering with the ordinary
