No. 777

Sessions Court, Salem,
14th October 1895.

From,

W. J. Tate, Esquire,
District Judge,
Salem.

To,

The Honourable J. F. Price, I.C.S.
Chief Secretary to Government,
Fort St. George, Madras.

Sir,

In Sessions Case No. 42 of 1895
heard at the last July Sessions 2 prisoners were committed on charges of murder under Section 302 I. P. C. as well as of other offences. The first of these prisoners employed a Vakil for his defence and I had to engage a pleader under G.O.
dated 17th November 1884, No. 3273 for the defence of the 2nd. who was reported by the Committing Magistrate to have no means to employ one. In this Court, the charge of murder against the 2nd.
Prisoner was dropped but not until after his Vakil had been engaged and appeared for him.

2. The trial of this case, which was a very important one, lasted 12 days and 21 witnesses were examined both for prosecution and defence.

3. A special Public Prosecutor was appointed to conduct the prosecution in this case on a fee of Rs. 25 per diem and so the amount of fee awarded to him is said to be Rs. 300. Though the work of the 2nd prisoner's pleader was comparatively not as heavy as the Public Prosecutor's in this case, yet his attendance in Court throughout the trial for these 12 days was necessary and on account of this case, he says, he gave up the other engagements he had during the interval. Under these circumstances I thought Rs. 100 would be a fair sum and awarded the same.

4. I have therefore the honor to request under G. O. dated 31st.

July 1894, No. 1864, that the Government may be pleased to sanction the payment of this sum of Rs. 100, which has already been paid to the pleader in anticipation of the sanction thereof.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. D. Lee
Sessions Judge.
