was also examined as a witness, as there was a difference of opinion between the two Apothecaries referred to above. Mr. Oldfield, the Head Assistant Collector, and Mr. Prendergast, the late Superintendent of Police, Kisthu were also examined as witnesses. The trial was a long and tedious one lasting for six days. In this case 24 witnesses were examined and numerous documents filed.

2. The Public Prosecutor suggests that a sum of Rs. 200-0 would be a moderately fair remuneration; but I am of opinion that Rs. 150 would be sufficient.

3. A copy of the judgment in the case is submitted for perusal & favor of return.

ment will be pleased to sanction a sum of
Rs. 150-0-0 as fee paid to the Public Prosecutor, Kistna for conducting Sessions Case No. 24 of 1895. This was a sensational case against a Police Constable, who was accused
