SIR,

Enclosures. 5

I have the honor to report the result of my investigation into the Cape Comorin and Kollur temple burglaries.

II. I left Madras for Tinnevelly on the 10th of October to find on my arrival there that the prisoners in the former case had been transferred to the Travancore authorities and that the preliminary inquiry was shortly to be held at Nagercoil before the District Magistrate. The prisoners - 14 in number - had been under remand with 2 exceptions* since the 19th June. No useful purpose could be served by visiting the scene of offence or interviewing the prisoners. My [illegible] we ascertained this [illegible] before starting & so have lost the time occupied in the journey W.S.

*Bahram Khan arrested 4th July 1894
Saiyid Abdul Rahiman arrested 10th August 1894-

my Stay in Tinnevelly however enabled to acquaint myself with all the det the Case-

Leaving Tinnevelly I proceeded to Bangalore and Hubli, those places bei the Chosen haunts of Kabulis and ther many of the incidents connected with th Kollur and Cape Cases occurred.

III — To particularise in detail the occurrenc in both these Cases within the body of th report would render it inordinately length and confusing; to obviate this, I have attached Statements summarizing events in their Chronological order with an analysis of the evidence bearing on each Case-

IV — Both these temple burglaries were initiated at Hubli; in both Kabulis were undoubtedly the principals; but beyond this, and also that the men concerned were intimately acquainted with one another there was absolutely no connection between the two-

V — I am inclined to think that apart from the property seized at Rawalpindi with Zardath Khan and identified as belonging to Kollur - little, if any of it went North. It was not until after arrests of Kabulis were made at Hubli that Zardath Khan quitted that place and his subsequent arrest in the Punjab possibly deterred others from following in his steps- The interests too of many of those engaged are centred in this and the Bombay Presidencies and it is therefore unlikely that property would have been taken to Peshawar. The men who committed these Crimes were arrested at Bangalore, Hubli and elsewhere sometime after the perpetration of the burglaries - they made no attempt to go North; of those not yet arrested our information points to their being somewhere in the Bombay Presidency, Hyderabad or Goa-is an example casualness of this C. We have never properly informed of arrest. It is twice mentioned papers in f.p. 2309/28/9/94 property seized is there Rs 8000 only

VI — The whole of the Kollur property was brought direct to Hubli and there disposed of to Marwadies who in their turn sold it to receivers in Sholapur, Poona and many smaller places in the Bombay Presidency-

VII — Much of the Cape Comorin treasure was no doubt taken to Colombo where the sale of the precious stones could readily be effected effected, the rest found its way in all probability to Bangalore, Hubli, Poona and Sholapur. After the commission of the offence some of the gang went to Colombo; Police officers from Tinnevelly and Travancore deputed to make inquiries failed to trace their movements and I attribute their failure in a measure to the non-registration of Foreigners by the Ceylon Police.

VIII — This question might I venture to suggest be brought to the notice of the Ceylon authorities; Kabulis in considerable numbers go to Tuticorin and thence take Steamer to Colombo; it is highly probable that the absence of Police supervision over Foreigners makes Colombo a desirable resort for the disposal of stolen goods from India.

IX — So large an amount of stolen property is represented in these two cases, much of which was conveyed to Hubli, that I cannot but think that had a Special Bombay officer been deputed to conduct the investigation better results would have been achieved; we were hampered by having to work with Police belonging to another Presidency over whom they knew we could exercise no authority.

authority. Although the Superintendent of Police, Dharwar, acceded most willingly to all my requests for help, his presence would have inspired his men with far more energy and interest than they could be expected to evince under the circumstances.

X — The Cape Comorin burglary took place on the 2nd of May; the Police - Travancore Police in particular - at once assumed that the Tinnevelly Maravers were concerned. On the 7th June, a strange and seemingly improbable story was told by one of them to the effect that some 17 Maravers while out on a hunting expedition in the Vellimalai hills came across a gang of 10 or 12 Kabulis at noon on the 4th May, whom they attacked and routed. In support of this story they produced by degrees the property they had looted from these Kabulis which was identified as belonging to the temple.

(1). The arrest of three Kabulis on the 13th June by the Tanjore Police at the railway Station with Rs. 5000 worth of Cape Comorin jewellery lent confirmation to the Maravers' story and it was only then that the

the Police realized that the temple breaking was the work of Kabulis and not of the Maravers.

(ii). The valuable time thus lost enabled the offenders to dispose of the property which must have passed through several hands before the Police turned their attention to the right quarter -

(iii). The losses in this case are estimated at Rs. 1,06,000 and of this only Rs. 17,000 have been recovered viz. Rs. 12,000 delivered up by the Maravers and Rs. 5000 secured by the Tanjore Police -

XI — In regard to the Kollur temple property, the arrest of Zardath Khan at Rawalpindi Railway Station on the 31st July, with jewellery estimated at Rs. 6000 and 2 large emeralds which have been identified by the Complainant, places the recoveries at a very satisfactory figure. These emeralds have not been valued alone, but the two ornaments in which they are set are put down at 6 lakhs; they may therefore be fairly estimated at half this sum -

The value before reported was Rs 8000 only

(i). The Dharwar Police were instrumental in securing the arrest at Hubli railway Station of 2 *Marwadis returning to their village with "broken jewellery" valued at Rs. 8000, which they had purchased from certain Marwadies of Hubli dealing directly with Kabulis -

*1. Alum Chund.
2. Kelar Mull.

(ii) On the outskirts of Hubli in an unfrequented place, a number of nose rings were found by some boys in July last, and as Kabulis had been seen loitering in the vicinity, I determined on reaching Hubli to make a thorough search of the ground; this resulted in the digging up of a pearl necklace, a number of loose pearls and some broken ornaments belonging to the Kollur temple valued at Rs. 1700 -

A double barrelled gun was also found which the Hubli Police thought might be identified as the gun with which a Kabuli had committed a murder -

What Kabuli & what murder? What a way to report it!

XII — Among the men not yet arrested who participated in the Cape Comorin Case, the most important is Gulam Rasul, he was the ringleader and with Marwadi Devaraz of Hubli (under arrest) organized the undertaking and collected the men — Gulam Rasul* had a house in Madras occupied at the present

*Sentenced by the Sessions Judge Tanjore to 5 years' imprisonment and Rs. 500 fine Section 457 - 380 13th September 1875, Calendar No. 75 present time by two of his wives; he has hitherto evaded arrest; he is well known to the Police who regard him as a Criminal of the worst type.

Since writing this report, intimation has been received from the Goa authorities that Gulam Rasul is there. Arrangements are being made for his extradition.

Bombay has been already telegraphed on this point.

These papers will be filed separately

(ii). Khyralla Khan was severely wounded in the head in the encounter with the Maravers; he is a great ally of Gulam Rasul's and will probably be found in Company with him.

(iii). Bunkett, a Sweet meat Seller of Hubli obtained information as to where the treasure was kept – as a brahmin he could enter into any part of the temple; he is known to consort with Kabulis – undoubtedly for unlawful purposes.

The arrest of these three men in particular is very essential, and the Case cannot be regarded as satisfactorily closed without their conviction.

(iv). It will be seen from the Statement submitted that there is no evidence against the 6th, 8th, 10th and 11th prisoners, nor do I think they were concerned; the arrests at Bangalore were somewhat hastily made.

Turning

XIII Turning again to the Kollur Case, Sahib Shah (now under remand) was the undoubted ringleader; the most active members of the gang have been secured; 3 or 4 Kabulis who are now at Hubli are also reported to have been implicated – but no evidence is forthcoming to warrant their arrest. The only important individual still at large is Punduth, a brahmin Sweet meat Seller, who formerly kept a Shop at Negapatam, but more recently resided at Hubli; he was the spy and was also suspected in the same Character in the Tirukodiyur temple burglary; he is a gambler and a Constant associate of Kabulis.

(i). Zardath Khan arrested at Rawalpindi had nothing whatever to do with the Case; he was merely entrusted for safe keeping with the Shares of three* of the offenders who like himself were Pathans and it was only after their arrest that he deemed it prudent to quit Hubli where he had lived for 15 years generally regarded as an individual of some respectability

Thor Khan

1. Sahib Shah
2. Thor Khan
3. Agha Jan

(ii). Thorkhan and Agha Jan arrested at Hubli in June and September last were no doubt concerned, but at the time of my arrival, no evidence had been obtained against them; three witnesses who implicate them and other Pathans under remand have since come forward; their statements were recorded at my request by the Taluk Magistrate of Hubli under Section 164 C. P. C. –

XIV I regret that my deputation has been productive of such small results, the recovery of Rs. 1700 worth of property with evidence against some of the accused; – and 6 months had elapsed since the crimes were committed; the prisoners had been under remand since June; – preliminary enquiries were about to be held; with such adverse conditions, success could scarcely be looked for.

XV I hope still to secure the arrest of the individuals referred to in this report and these arrests if effected, may possibly lead to the recovery of further property. I am convinced for reasons given in para. V of this letter that a visit to Peshawar would in no way contribute to the solution of these cases – with your approval I therefore returned to duty, my further absence from Madras being uncalled for – the arrests can be effected when information as to the absconders' movements has been obtained.

XVI Although my investigation has not been directly very successful, I have obtained a good deal of information regarding Kabulis; the antecedents of many of these men have been traced and their relationships and connections ascertained; the publication of this in the Madras Abstracts and Police Gazette is likely to prove useful to Police Officers generally.

XVII Kabulis – indiscriminately so called – are not confined to men from Afghanistan. Many of them belong to Peshawar and other Districts of the Punjab or to Independent States of Northern India. A more correct designation would be Pathan; among these Pathans there are many sub-divisions of of tribes or Castes - those with whom we have most concern and who really form the Criminal Class are generally confined to the following:—

Yusaf Zai
Mohmand
Pakli
Khatak
Muhammad Zai.

XVIII — These Pathans, many of whom have resided for years in this Presidency, not infrequently intermarrying with women of the Country, must be regarded as a distinctly Criminal Class - Ostensibly they subsist by the sale of Asafœtida, Cloths or ponies but in reality they are with very few exceptions, house-breakers and thieves—

XIX — There is much freemasonry among them; they are all more or less known to one another and they are always ready to engage in any unlawful undertaking which the more experienced may be organizing. The object for which they have been brought together, having been attained attained, they separate - they do not work in regular gangs, but are only temporarily associated, not always under the same leader or with the same men.

XX — The books of some of the Marwadies of Hubli show that various sums of money were due by Pathans said to represent balances for Cloths supplied; my inquiries however convinced me that these outstandings were really Cash advances made in the capacity of receivers to be recovered when successful crime shall have placed these Pathans in funds.

XXI — Hubli and Bangalore were much frequented by Pathans until the domiciliary visits of the police rendered existence in those localities insupportable to a Class whose associates and dealings are seldom unconnected with crime; they congregate in many parts of the Bombay Presidency, making Madras their field of Criminal operations thence returning to dispose of their illicit gains to Marwadi receivers in Hubli, Sholapur, Poona and Bombay—

XXII. The rich temples of Southern India afford attractive objects to Pathans who are nearly always concerned in their spoliation; they are not hampered by any sacrilegious qualms and the absence of a properly constituted Railway Police is much in their favor.

I have the honor to be,

CHIEF OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF POLICE,

Madras, 1st December 1894.

FROM

Colonel C. A. Porteous,

INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF POLICE,

TO

THE Chief Secretary

to Government,

Fort Saint George.

SIR,

Enclosures. One

In submitting to Government the accompanying report of Mr. Meredith Assistant Inspector General placed at my request on Special duty in connection with the House-Breakings which took place in the Cape Comorin and Kollur temples, I have the honor to state that Mr. Meredith proceeded on deputation on 10th October 1894 and returned to this office on 19th November 1894.

As I concurred with him that there was nothing further for him to do at present in these Cases and the arrest of the other individuals wanted [illegible] may be [illegible] [illegible] were at once so that the necessary [illegible]

clear that although the Pathans ne in these cases originally hailed from No India for many years past they have had their habitat in the Madras and Bombay Presidencies. At the same time I have no doubt that they pa periodical visits, with or without plund to their Native Country – If not I find it difficult to understand why Zardad Khan {arrested accidentally by a Rail official on the platform of the Rawalpi Railway Station} should have been sent North with such a large port of the booty secured in the Kollur Ca

It would be to the mutual advantag of the Police of different Presidencies or Provinces if there were more frequent interchange of visits between their respective Police officers.

ii. Officers of different Presidencies could not work more separately if they belonged to different Nationalities than they do now under our Government.

4. i. Mr. Meredith has performed the duty entrusted in an efficient manner, he does not take credit for having achieved any great results, but he has undoubtedly assisted to forge more closely the links of evidence against some of the individuals now under arrest, and he has obtained much more valuable information regarding Pathans and their movements.

C No. 6406 (Judl.)

Mr. Meredith having returned to duty, I presume Mr. Carr has reverted to his appt. as Asstt. with Govt. — Wasn't there some talk about the latter appt. being done away with? If so, the matter might now be taken up –

It is unfortunate that Mr. M. shd. lose his l. a. of Rs 200 while on this special duty, but it is not in our power to do more for him than we have already done, viz. order that he is to get the maxm. depn. allce. admissible under the rules –

Mr. M.'s report seems to me to sin by the assumption that we know more of these burglaries than we do know. It follows that it is not so useful as it might be. For instance, what is the use of the comment on the Bangalore arrests that they "were somewhat hastily made", when we are not (so far as I can see) told who made these arrests & why?

As to sending a copy of the report to the Bombay Govt., no doubt it would appear that the Bombay Police did not render Mr. M. as much assistance as they might have done. But I don't see how we can say anything when we have no idea what requisitions were addressed to them, nor whether the Supt. of Police Dharwar had other work on hand which prevented his attending more closely to Mr. M. & to these cases. If more assistance was wanted in Bombay, why on earth didn't Mr. M. wire at once to say so that the necessary [illegible] W. H.

might be made to the Bombay Govt., as ~~[illegible]~~ was done to the Punjab Govt.? By the way, the Punjab Govt. will now have to be told that Mr. M. is not going there after all.

On the whole, I am much disappointed with Mr. M.'s report. He does not possess the art of reporting, however good he may be at enquiries.

As to writing to the Ceylon Govt. (banners VII & VIII of Mr. M.'s report) ~~I think~~ we might go so far as to say to them that there is a suspicion that property is taken over there & disposed of & to ask what their arrangements are for watching these Pathans. They may reply, of course, that we should watch the steamers at Tuticorin & catch thieves before they get off with their plunder; & the rejoinder would be a good one.

As to para 2 (the end) of the I.G.'s letter, if he wants to send a man to the North let him ~~to~~ make definite proposals — the Lahore Durbar is over.

The above comments & my marginal notes on the reports themselves are not intended for comment to the I.G., of course. All that needs to be said to him now is that it is not in (my) power to do more for Mr. [illegible] of deputation than has already been ordered & that final report on the two cases is awaited. The Punjab Govt. should also be told that Mr. M.'s contemplated visit to the Province will not now take place.

I think we might put off writing to Ceylon, till we get our railway police established — we shall then be in a much stronger position than we are now — for we could make suggestions for mutual arrangements, which we cannot do now — while we shd. only lay ourselves open to the rejoinder mentioned, to which we would have no answer.

I think all the information wh. can be given is to be found in the report and appendices, when taken together — but it would have been more convenient if Mr. Meredith had told his story in a more connected form.

As to deputing an officer to N. India — I have discussed this with the I.G. & Mr. Meredith, and agree with them in thinking that nothing would be gained by our adopting such a step. Because the Cabulis who live in Bombay, Mysore & Madras have little or no connection with the north. What we do require is an efficient railway police, who can watch these men along the railway, as the Cabuli gangs are watched along the roads in the various districts visited by them. The I.G. as soon as these railway police are established, should start some system of communication with the Bombay, Mysore & Ceylon police, so that even suspected men [illegible] drawn to the from the time he leaves his house till he returns to it. If this is properly carried out, we shall either force these people to abandon their nefarious practices, or else quit Southern India altogether.

The I.G.'s final report on the two cases will be awaited. In the meantime [~~the Ceylon Govt. will be addressed on the subject of the registration of suspicious foreigners~~ &] the Punjab Govt. will be informed that Mr. Meredith's contemplated visit will not now take place

2. With refce to the question of the allowance to be passed to Mr. Meredith, it will be observed that it has been already ordered that he should draw the maximum dep. allowance admissible under Art. 98 (a) of the C.S.R. & that it is not in the power of Govt to do more ~~[illegible]~~ than this.

~~Hon'ble Sir.~~

~~The attention of this Govt. has recently been drawn to the~~ fact that wandering Pathans who ~~come~~ down to the Presidency from Northern India on expeditions of plunder frequent elude the vigilance of the local police by embarking from Tuticorin for Colombo where it is probably easy for them to dispose of stolen property – particularly when consisting of jewellery & precious stones.
