Sir,

Under a notification issued by the British Government under section 229 B of the Civil Procedure Code, the decrees of Civil Courts in Travancore are now executed in British India as if they had been passed by the Courts of British India. In the same way under a Travancore notification issued under Regulation IV of 1861, the decrees of British Indian civil courts are now executed in Travancore. This reciprocity of action in regard to the execution of decrees has been extended to the service of civil process also. The Travancore Darbar now suggests that may further be extended to the service of summonses issued to witnesses only, by Criminal Courts. The Dewan considers that such an arrangement would be largely conducive to the despatch of business and I agree with him. It does not seem to me that it would, if agreed to, be in any way inconsistent with the provisions of the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act which refers to accused persons alone. I have therefore the honor to submit the proposal of the Durbar for the favourable consideration of Government.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper:—

From J. THOMSON, Esq., Resident in Travancore and Cochin, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Peermand, 14th October 1895, Ref. on C. No. 3021.

Under a notification issued by the British Government under section 229 B of the Civil Procedure Code, the decrees of Civil Courts in Travancore are now executed in British India as if they had been passed by the Courts of British India. In the same way, under a Travancore notification issued under Regulation IV of 1061, the decrees of British Indian Civil Courts are now executed in Travancore. This reciprocity of action in regard to the execution of decrees has been extended to the service of civil processes also. The Travancore Durbar now suggests that it may further be extended to the service of summonses, issued to witnesses only, by Criminal Courts. The Dewan considers that such an arrangement would be largely conducive to the despatch of business and I agree with him. It does not seem to me that it would, if agreed to, be in any way inconsistent with the provisions of the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act which refers to accused persons alone. I have therefore the honour to submit the proposal of the Durbar for the favourable consideration of Government.

ORDER—No. 2520, Judicial, dated 5th December 1895.

The favour of the opinions of the Hon'ble the Judges of the High Court and the Advocate-General on the proposal will be requested, and the Resident's letter will also be referred to the Inspector-General of Police and the District Magistrates of Tinnevely, Madura, Malabar and Coimbatore for remarks.
