From

Resident in Travancore and Cochin,

To

The Honorable Mr. Le Gibson

Ag. Chief Secretary to Government, Fort St. George.

Sir,

With reference to para 2 of G.O. dated 8th ultains n^o 3006 judicial I have the honor to report for the information of Government that under the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act persons accused of offences committed in the Native States similar to certain of those described in the Indian Penal Code are, if they escape into British India liable to arrest on warrants issued by the Political Officer under the rules published in Judicial Notification n^o 31 J. dated 12th March 1875. To reciprocate such action the Political Officer is in G.O. dated 12th April 1875 n^o 219 Political authorised to demand the extradition of persons accused of similar offences committed in British India escaping into Native States. Although this rule has been laid down for general guidance it seems to me that there is no provision of law

recd 17.6.75
L.P. 367 P.M.

which would bar the extradition of persons accused of offences not included in the extradition act. I meant therefore that if provision is made in British India under which first class Magistrates in Native States can issue warrants for arrest of persons accused of offences committed in those States under the regulations passed on the lines of Act III of 1859 and who escape into British India, there is nothing to prevent reciprocity of action on the part of the Native States being insisted upon.

I have the honor to be
Sir

Your most-Obedient Servant.

H. E. F. J. J.
Resident
