To order.

From the Civil Justice report for 1893 it appears that the Godavari District Court disposed of 38 original suits, 29 being instituted 113 pending at the end of the year, the corresponding average figures being 20, 21 + 25. It further disposed of 130 appeals, out of 352 being instituted 491 being left pending (large numbers probably having been transferred to the Sub. Courts; including Kistna which is exceptional statistics, the average disposal of appeals was 268. In the Sub Courts 457 appeals were disposed of, 183 being left pending, as also 115 original suits. The Court remarked on the delay of the Ellore Sub. Court in the Civil Justice Review - vol. 1 page 6; - but that does not affect the present application for a temporary adjournment. His appointment is required to dispose of the pending appeals, which the Pittapur suit has entirely prevented the Dist. Court from touching. Submitted that the following telegram should be sent.
