Proceedings of the Madras Government, Judicial Department, 4th February 1873.

No. 11. Read the following letter from the Officiating Under Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department (Judicial), to the Secretary to Government, Fort St. George, dated Fort William, 20th January 1873, No. 159:—

I am directed to call your attention to the notification published in the Fort St. George Gazette of the 24th December 1872, promulgating rules purporting to be made under the new Code of Criminal Procedure. As the new Code only came into operation on the 1st instant, the notification in question should be re-issued, bearing a date subsequent to the 1st January 1873.

No. 12. To the Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, dated Fort St. George, 4th February 1873, No. 199.

In reply to your Under Secretary's communication of the 20th ultimo, I am directed to point out that the notification of this Government, referred to therein, is expressly stated to have effect from 1st January 1873, and that it was necessary to promulgate the notification some days prior to the date on which the Code of Criminal Procedure came into operation, in order to admit of its reaching distant districts beforehand, and giving the Magistracy due notice of the intentions of Government in regard to the investiture of powers and other points requisite for the efficient working of the new law.

2. Under these circumstances, the publication of the notification with prospective effect was, in the opinion of this Government, expedient, and as its validity does not appear to have been affected thereby, I am to submit that its re-issue, bearing a date subsequent to the 1st January 1873, would be superfluous. A similar notification was published by the Bombay Government under date the 14th December 1872.
