It is submitted that there are three ways of supplying 2 copies of the Indian Law Reports to the Madras Police Comr.

1. To include two copies in the requisition for the 150 add^l copies now being made to the Govt of India for supply to Messrs. Higginbottom & Co. - In this case, it will only be necessary to add a few words to the G.O. and to the letter to the Govt of India, explaining that ~~two~~^{add^l} copies are required for the Police Comr.

2. Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co. of Calcutta are are continuing (under an old order in respect to the Bengal Law Reports) to supply this post with 12 copies of the Indian Law Reports. Under the new scheme, it will be necessary to order the discontinuance of these 12 copies. Instead of ordering the discontinuance of the 12, Thacker & Co may be directed to stop 10 and send 2 in future. These 2 may be handed to the Police Court.

3. Looking at the list of distribution attached to G.O. 4th March 1876, N:422 (herewith submitted), it is seen that 7 copies are assigned to the Secretariat, 15 to the High Court, & 4 to the Madras Small Cause Court. The

The supply of copies for the Secretariat allows 1 copy to the Governor - 1 to each of the two Councilors - 1 to the Chief Secretary, 1 to the Revenue Secretary - 1 to the Office & 1 to the Legislative Dept. - But there ought to be one or more copies for the Office at Ootacamund.

It does not appear why the High Court should get 15 copies, or the Small Cause Court 4 copies - Twelve will be ample for the High Court, and two for the Small Cause Court. Giving each of the 5 Judges a copy, the Registrar and Deputy Registrar on the original and appellate sides, a copy and the Clerk of the Crown a copy, 10 copies would be sufficient for the High Court; and if the post give them 12 copies, the High Court will will have 2 copies to spare. It will be sufficient to give the Small Cause Court two copies - 1 for the 1st Judge,

and 1 for the Library of the other Judges.
In this way a saving of 5 copies may be effected in the present distribution which would allow 2 copies to the Police Court, and leave 3 for the use of J.P. at Pottacammund.
