2. Copies of the reports of the Settlement Officer appointed to the duty of inspecting them on arrival are herewith appended for information.

3. When the Committee appointed to examine the newly-arrived convicts assembled, four days after their arrival there were nine of the number in hospital and seven more were sent to hospital by the Committee. The Committee, however, report that the convicts are strong and healthy and appear to be likely to stand the climate, with the exception of Madras convicts Madadu, No. 275-B of the Bellary District, and Muthiga Bin Changadoo, No. 320-B of North Arcot, who are reported each to have a stiff elbow joint and are unfit for hard extramural labor, and also convict Tukkejee, No. 280-B of the Bellary District, whose age is given as forty-five in his descriptive roll, but has the appearance of being over fifty years of age.

4. The two convicts marginally named, who have been sent from Madras and whose ages are entered in their descriptive rolls as 17 and who do not look older, have been deported in contravention of the orders of the Government of India conveyed in Home Department No. 5—188-192, dated the 22nd April 1875.

5. I would take this opportunity of bringing to the notice of the Government of India that the only intimation received by me officially of the despatch of the Madras convicts was contained in a telegram from the Superintendent of Prisons, Madras, which has only reached me this day, eleven days after the arrival of the convicts. A reference to the time-table would have shown that by no possibility could the telegram have reached sooner.

The batch of convicts from Madras arrived the day after that from Calcutta and before the latter could be distributed. Had I not, by a mere chance, heard from a private source that a steamer with convicts was coming from Madras, considerable inconvenience might have been caused.

6. The inconvenience caused by sending batches of convicts from Madras without notice was represented to the Government of India by my predecessor in the letters entered in the margin, and the matter was brought to the notice of the Government of Madras in your office letters, Nos. 178 and 292, dated respectively the 6th July 1877 and 5th November 1878.

From J. N. HOMFRAY, Esq., Officer in charge, Ross Island, to the Chief Commissioner, Andaman and Nicobars, dated Ross Island, 4th November 1880, No. 239.

I have the honor to report the arrival at Port Blair on this day's date of 124* native convicts per S.S. Satara in charge of Mr. Inspector Hodges from Calcutta.

3. I inspected them on board; no complaints were preferred by any of them.

4. The ship was clean and in good order and her accommodation well adapted for the purpose. The arrangement for the latrine and cooking appeared to be good.

5. I have the honor to state that six bags of clothing brought down by these convicts, the property belonging to them, was made over to me to be disposed of in the usual manner.

No. 76. From Lieutenant-Colonel T. E. TENNANT, Inspector-General of Jails, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Madras, 8th January 1881, No. 2.

In returning the correspondence noted in the margin, I have the honor to forward the explanation from the Superintendent of Prisons for the Town of Madras and to remark that the rules regulating the transportation of convicts to Port Blair are most carefully observed in this Presidency.

2. Convicts under sentence of transportation are, in the first place, examined by Committees composed of a Magisterial and a Medical Officer and are held at the jail in which the prisoners happened to be confined. Such convicts as are pronounced fit for deportation are then transferred by the Inspector-General of Jails to Madras. They are generally kept some little time under medical observation at Madras. Prior to embarkation they are subjected to a careful examination by a Presidency Committee with a view of ascertaining if they fulfil the prescribed conditions or are, by reason of age or other bodily infirmities, disqualified for transportation. Any convict found not to fulfil the prescribed conditions is rejected and sent back to the Provincial Jail. I am not aware what further precautions can be taken by the Madras Prison authorities.

3. From the explanation afforded by the Superintendent of Prisons and the Medical Officer of the Penitentiary, it appears that the convicts who are reported by the Superintendent of Port Blair as having stiff elbow joints underwent a careful examination prior to their embarkation, and that the bodily infirmities described by Colonel Cadell were not discovered by either the medical officers up-country or the Presidency Committee at Madras. One of the tests applied was the lifting by sheer strength of the arms a square stone weighing 125 lb., and the convicts performed this feat successfully without the fact of the stiff elbow being noticed.

4. With regard to the objections raised on account of age, the Medical Officers in this Presidency considered that the two convicts were above eighteen years old and that convict Tukkejee was not more than forty-five years of age. Lieutenant-Colonel Cadell, however, is of opinion that the two convicts are seventeen years of age and that convict Tukkejee is over fifty years of age.

5. In the matter of age with natives there always exists doubt, but I submit that the Medical Officers and Prison authorities of this Presidency, who possess considerable experience in regard to the physique and general condition of the natives of Southern India, are as capable of forming a correct opinion on these points as the authorities at Port Blair. If a mistake has been made, we can but regret it, but I respectfully submit that there are no grounds for the allegation that these convicts have been deported from Madras in contravention of standing orders.

ENCLOSURE No. 1.

From W. A. SYMONDS, Esq., Superintendent of Prisons for the Town of Madras, to the Inspector-General Jails, dated Madras, 7th January 1881, No. 14.

With reference to your memorandum, No. 7270, dated 27th December 1880, calling for a report on paragraphs 2 and 3 of letter No. 428 from the Government of India regarding matters connected with the batch of convicts despatched to Port Blair from Madras on the 27th October last, I have the honor to inform you that, owing to the difficulty in finding a sufficient number of transport convicts to make up a batch for Port Blair qualified under existing rules for deportation, great uncertainty was experienced as to whether a draft would be despatched or not, and it was not until the 23rd of October that the last available party reached Madras from the mofussil, and after the Committee had sat on the 24th idem it was found that a total of 70 convicts only were available instead of 125 as ordered. It was thus clearly too late to communicate with the authorities at Port Blair by letter, as no steamer except the Asia, which vessel was to sail on the 27th, was bound for that port. I, therefore, despatched a telegram on the day the convicts embarked, and I certainly was under the impression that a telegram was a sufficient and effectual manner of communicating the departure of the convicts in this instance as it was found to be on former occasions; why the telegram was so long in reaching Port Blair I cannot say.

2. With reference to paragraph 3 of the letter above referred to, I beg to state that the two convicts from the Bellary Jail said to have stiff elbow joints were in the Penitentiary for fourteen days previous to the assembling of the Final Committee; that during that time they made no complaint of any ailment; they were carefully examined by the Medical Officer before the assembling of the Committee, and when passing the Final Committee they underwent a severe test, i.e., lifting a square stone weighing 125 lb. direct from the ground by sheer strength of the arms; that they performed this feat successfully and that these convicts passed all these examinations and tests without bringing the fact of the stiff elbows to notice; and that they must have succeeded in concealing the stiff elbow joints from the Local Committee at Bellary must be taken for granted, or they would not have been despatched to Madras.

3. Hence it must be inferred that these convicts are either feigning the disease, or that the stiff elbows were contracted on the voyage.

4. Convict Tukkajee of the Bellary District appeared to be of good physique and not above the age of forty-five and quite fit for hard labor when passing the Committee.

5. Convicts Perumal and Seewan of the Cuddalore Jail were especially noted by the Madras Committee, who unanimously agreed that the convicts were eighteen years of age or more, but decidedly not under. They have a youthful appearance, but a careful examination left no doubt about their being eighteen years of age and quite capable of performing a man's work. The Cuddalore Local Committee must have held the same opinion. I attach the Medical Officer's professional report on the subject of the above convicts. The entry of seventeen years as the age of these two convicts was copied from the roll received from Cuddalore and by an oversight was not altered here.

6. With regard to giving notice to the authorities at Port Blair, I wish to impress upon you that I am at all times careful to communicate with them so soon as I am certain of the number of convicts to be despatched. The present occasion was exceptional, and the delay could not be avoided.

ENCLOSURE No. 2.

From Surgeon-Major S. B. HUNT, in Medical Charge, Her Majesty's Penitentiary, to the Superintendent of Prisons for the Town of Madras, dated Madras, 30th December 1880, No. 31.

With reference to memorandum, dated 27th instant, from the Inspector-General of Jails, I have the honor to inform you that I carefully examined the two convicts said to be under eighteen years of age, and that I felt perfectly satisfied from their appearance that they were above that age. The man said to be over age did not seem to me, after careful examination, to be more than forty-five years of age. These three men lifted with ease a stone weighing 125 lb. in the presence of the Committee of which I was a member, and we were all perfectly satisfied with their fitness for deportation and their capability of performing hard labor. The two men who are said to have stiff elbows, as well as every man passed by the Committee, lifted the stone weighing 125 lb., which they could not have done had they suffered from a stiff elbow joint at the time.

2. I beg to bring to your recollection that every convict sent from this to Port Blair is carefully and separately examined by me and that he is again seen by me when he comes before the Committee.

SIR,

In reply to your letter of the 14th December last, No. 428, I am directed to forward, for the information of the Governor-General in Council, a letter from the Inspector-General of Jails, dated 8th January, No. 2, reporting on the incapacity for work, from such causes as bodily infirmity, immature and advanced age, alleged by the Superintendent at Port Blair to have existed in the case of five convicts received in the Island on the 4th November last from Madras.

2. It will be observed that, prior to deportation, the convicts are subjected to a very careful examination, both by a District and a Presidency Committee, to see that they fulfil the conditions required by standing rules; but in the matter of age there is no doubt that, as the Inspector-General asserts, uncertainty will always exist in the case of natives and that the Prison and Medical authorities acquainted with the natives of this Presidency ought to be the best judges of the fact. It is, however, to be regretted that the entry of 17 years made in the roll received from the District Jail was not altered by the Madras Committee, who considered that the right figure was 18.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

In returning the Correspondence noted in the margin, I have the honor to forward the explanation from the Superintendent of Prisons for the town of Madras and to remark that the rules regulating the transportation of convicts to Port Blair, are most carefully observed in this Presidency.

a careful examination by a Residency Committee, with a view of ascertaining if they fulfil the prescribed conditions, or are by reason of age or other bodily infirmities disqualified for transportation. Any convict found not to fulfil the prescribed conditions is rejected and sent back to the Provincial jail. I am not aware what further precautions can be taken by the Madras Prison authorities, but as complaints are not unfrequently received from Port Blair, in spite of all these precautions, I have the honour to submit that the Government of India may be moved to favour this Government with distinct instructions as to how it wishes the Medical officers and jail authorities should act in future & whether any change is desirable in the constitution of the examining Committee.

3. And the explanation afforded by the Superintendent of Prisons and the Medical officer of the Penitentiary, it appears that the convicts who are reported by the superintendent of Port Blair as having stiff elbow-joints underwent a careful examination prior to their embarkation and that the bodily infirmities described by Colonel Cadell were not discovered by either the medical officers of Country or the Presidency Committee at Madras.

One of the tests applied was the lifting by sheer strength of the

Sir.

In reply to your letter of the 14th Dec^r last,
No. 428, I am directed to forward for the information of the Govt. Genl.
in Council a letter from the Dy. of Jails dated 8th Jan^y 1881, reporting

108/97/1201
SD/Secy. to Govt. of India
17/108

in the incapacity for work, from such causes
as bodily infirmity
immature and advanced age, alleged by the Inspector John Blair
to have existed in the Case of 5 convicts received in the Island on the 4th Decr: last from Madras.

2. It will be sh.
shown that prior to deportation, the convicts
are subjected to a very careful examination both by a Dist: and a Mag:
Committee to see

that they fulfill the conditions required by Standing rules; but in the matter of age there is no doubt that, as the D. L. asserts, uncertainty will always exist in the Case of natives & that the physical and medical authorities acquainted with the nature of the Prison: are the best judges of the fact.
It is however to be regretted that the ruling of 11 years made in the rule received from the Dist: Jail was not attended by the Madras

Committee. ^{18/108}
