To

The Accountant General, Madras.

Fort William the 16th February 1881.

SIR,

In reply to your letter No. 228 dated 25th January 1881, I am directed to say that there is nothing in the Rules to prevent Mr. J. M. Buxton, First Judge of the Court of Small Causes in the Town of Madras, from retiring from the service at the end of or during the next "vacation" of the Court, without prejudice to his claim to pay for the whole or that portion of the vacation of which he may avail himself.

I am however to observe that your reference should have been submitted to the Local Government.

*I have the honor to be,
Sd/ E. J. Simkinson
